

BANK CLERKS BATTLE WITH ANARCHISTS

TWO PEOPLE KILLED AND EIGHT WOUNDED

WARSAW, Russian Poland, May 25.—A brief but bloody encounter took place here at the Industrial Savings Bank, which was attacked by a band anarchists. The latter, with revolvers in their hands, ordered the clerks and customers present to hold up their hands. The chief clerk promptly drew a revolver and fired at the intruders. This was the signal for a brisk fusillade during which two of the customers were killed and two customers, five clerks and one of the anarchists were wounded. The anarchists escaped, carrying off their wounded.

THREE MEN BURN TO DEATH

Are Cremated Alive After Night of Drinking

SAN DIEGO, May 25.—Lying under heaps of debris in the cellar of what was the ranch house of Pat Sweeney, a prosperous and well liked rancher of Vista, are the charred bodies of the owner and two companions of last night, Ned Robertson, an employee of Sweeney, and Jim Carter, one of the best known young ranchmen of that section. Liquor and an overturned lamp are responsible for their death.

The house was totally consumed by the flames. About midnight the three men, with Henry Thomas and a few others, were enjoying a jovial evening together, as had been their custom. The four sat together long after the others had gone, and, according to the story of Thomas, the only survivor of the tragedy, all had been drinking freely.

LAMP OVERTURNED.

While the carousal was at its height, Thomas says the lamp was overturned. Almost immediately the room was in flames, and the men were not able to extinguish them.

Whether the men stayed too long to fight the fire, or were too drunk to find their way out, is unknown, although Thomas says he managed to reach the open air and called to the others.

BLACKENED REMAINS.

When neighbors arrived at the scene the flames were licking the last of the ruins. This morning the remains of the three men were to be seen blackened and partially consumed lying in the cellar, where they had fallen when the floor burned away beneath them. The coroner has gone from this city to view the remains.

All of the men were unmarried. Sweeney was about 45 years old and had been living on the ranch for a number of years. He had no relatives in this part of the country except a cousin at Vista. Robertson and Carter were about 35 years of age.

REFUGES FIGHT; ONE BADLY INJURED

Murder Charge May Be Result of Quarrel.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—William Bell, a refugee residing temporarily in a tent in Columbia Square, and Edward Kilkline, another fire victim, engaged in an altercation last night over the ground occupied by their tents, with the result that Kilkline was struck with a pick ax which penetrated the right lung and broke two ribs. The victim is at the Central Emergency Hospital, and is not expected to recover. His assailant is held at the Stanyan street police station, where he will be charged with murder if Kilkline dies, which seems probable.

Bell states that he acted in self defense and that the unfortunate ending of the dispute came about by Kilkline attacking him first with a pick ax. The district attorney's office has been notified of the patient's condition and will take a dying statement to be used again Bell if death ensues.

EVIDENCE IS MELTED

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—On the night of April 8 District Attorney Langdon raided the place of Ned Lannagan, 1451 Powell street and took $1844 in gold and silver as evidence. This amount was turned over to the property clerk of the police and was placed in the thinly-covered vaults at the Hall of Justice. The flames came along and melted the contents of the vaults, with the result that a guard was placed on the vaults value of the money as evidence destroyed. A guard was placed on the vaults and after the heat disappeared destroyed. A guard was placed on the vaults and after the heat disappeared destroyed. REFUGEES' TENTS GO DOWN

Storm Is Cause of Suffering Among the People.

BERKELEY, May 25.—It was a hard night for the stricken refugees who slept in tents on California field last night. Their tents blew down and they found themselves resting in puddles of water. There were about fifty people camping in the field that includes men, women and children. At midnight the storm was so great that all the refugees were compelled to vacate their tents and walk out in the field in their night dresses. It was bitter cold and the babies barely covered were victims of this terrific storm. There was no shelter for them. Hearst Hall on the campus was locked, and no other buildings were accessible to them at the time.

As soon as the tents were erected the refugees stood under them until morning came. They could no longer sleep on the bare ground as they had done, their blankets would no longer give them warmth.

A mighty wall came from these refugees who had been promised homes since the time of their arrival on the campus, but as yet have not been sheltered in comfortable houses.

GEORGE W. PERKINS IS DISCHARGED

NEW YORK, May 25.—The appellate division of the Supreme Court today handed down a decision discharging from custody George W. Perkins, whom the Supreme Court had held to await the action of the grand jury on a technical charge of grand larceny in connection with the campaign contributions of the New York Life Insurance Company to the Republican National Committee.

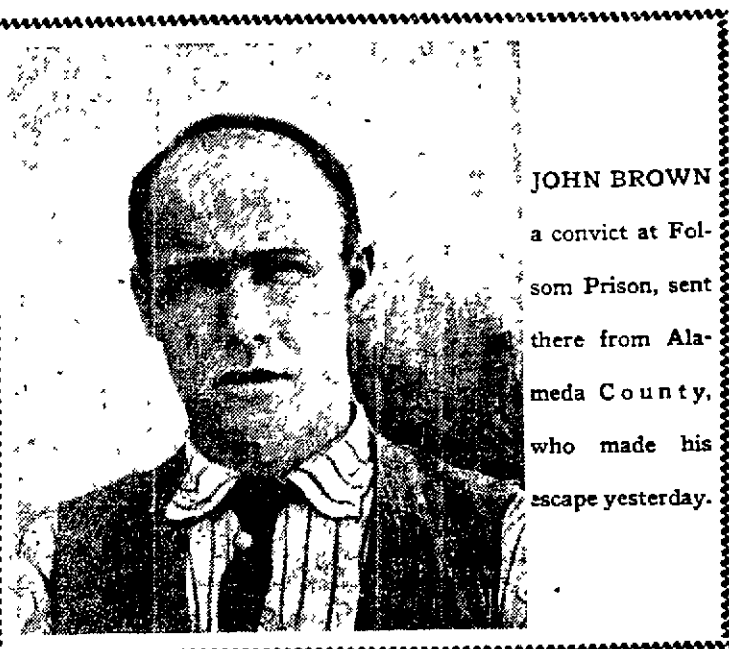

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY FAILS

BURGLAR ESCAPES FROM FOLSOM

Walks From the Guarded Grounds Without Hindrance.

Taking advantage of the liberty given him, John Brown, a convict at Folsom State Prison, sent there from Alameda County, made his escape at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, and the police throughout the State are now looking out for him. He was twenty-eight years of age when convicted and was convicted here of grand larceny, for stealing a heifer from George H. Denison of 127 Eleth avenue, near Piedmont avenue, in April, 1902, and was sentenced by Judge Henry Melvin to nine years at Folsom. The dispatch from the capital is as follows:

BREAKS JAIL.

SACRAMENTO, May 25.—John Brown, serving nine years for burglary committed in Alameda county, escaped from Folsom Prison at 4 o'clock yesterday morning.

Brown, although a third-term, was a "trusty," assigned to the power house. He walked from the prison grounds without hindrance. He did not wear the convict garb, being permitted to wear overalls and jumper, such as are worn by engineers and firemen, and this made his escape easy. His term would not have expired until August 30, 1908.

Brown is described as a tall, bald-headed man, but the description furnished Sheriff Reese by the prison authorities does not go into details.

HEIFER IN COURT.

Brown was an electrician by occupation but had been convicted of a charge of burglary in San Francisco in January, 1898, and two years later he was again in trouble for breaking into the barn of a man by the name of C. E. Gallagher. His last offense was the stealing of Denison's heifer, which he found tethered in a lot close to 127 Eleth avenue one night. The heifer was produced in court at his preliminary examination before Judge Mortimer Smith and for a time was an exhibit in the case.

MAY CHARGE MURDER

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—Instead of having the charge of manslaughter preferred against him, Ernest H. Denicke, civil engineer, graduate of the University of California, and son of Ernest A. Denicke, a well known capitalist, will in all probability have the more serious charge of murder placed against him, according to Assistant District Attorney Louis Ward, because of the shooting of an unknown man on the Lombard street wharf on April 20.

Denicke was arrested yesterday by Detectives Hamill and Dow and booked on a charge of manslaughter. He was released on $5000 bail, furnished by the father of the arrested man and by his brother, Attorney F. A. Denicke, 3001 California street.

This morning when the case was called before Police Judge Shortall it was discovered that there was no complaint on file and the case was continued until tomorrow. In asking for the continuance Attorney Ward said: "Your honor, from the facts that have come to my observation in the case, I do not believe that the charge of manslaughter is sufficient. I have directed all of the witnesses in the case to appear before me this afternoon, and after hearing their evidence I will issue a warrant for murder if the facts warrant it."

BIG QUAKE OCCURS IN CHINA

Loss of Life is Great, Much Damage is Done

VICTORIA, B. C., May 25.—Mail advices from the Orient state that an earthquake causing great loss of life and considerable damage to property occurred at the beginning of May at Uniankal and vicinity in Mongolia.

The Peking Times reports that a chasm of several feet wide was caused by the earthquake. The walled city of Uniankal was almost completely destroyed, the loss of life being very heavy.

Officials at Peking had received news that the calamity was of exceptional severity and arrangements were being made for the relief of the people in distress.

Severe shocks are also reported from Fokien Province of China, the most disastrous being in Chuen, Chou Prefecture where many buildings were destroyed, the loss of life being unknown.

MEDICINE HAT, Alberta, May 25.—Corporal Bettley of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, who has been out on patrol duty for several weeks, reported at Swift Current today with a strange story.

On the first night of the San Francisco earthquake a band of Indians were encamped at Eaglequill Lake, and they report that during the night all were awakened by a violent shock.

That there had been a terrific convulsion of nature there could be no doubt, as in the morning it was found that an artesian well had appeared in the bottom of the coulee near by and was throwing water fully thirty feet in the air.

The coulee rapidly filled as did the adjoining depression of land and a fair sized lake now exists where there was no water before. The new lake is twenty miles south of Swift Current.

G. E. AITKEN MAKES A REPLY

Loss of Life is Great, Much Damage is Done

Referring to Rev. Dr. Dille's interview in yesterday TRIBUNE, in which his attitude on the saloon closing question was criticized, Councilman G. E. Aitken said this morning to a reporter of this paper:

"I have been shown the interview with Rev. Dr. Dille in THE TRIBUNE regarding the closing of the saloons of this city for thirty days, in which he states that about one hundred of the men employed at the California Cotton Mills had said to him that if I voted to keep the saloons open they would not continue to work under me.

"I do not know how the reverend gentleman considers numbers, but there are no one hundred men under my authority in those mills. The greatest number whom I know to be working under me, at various times, will not exceed ten.

NO DICTATION.

"But my feelings in this matter are to be dictated by my own idea of what is right and proper. I am not attempting to dictate to others. Why should others dictate to me?

"Dr. Dille's views on this question are not new. He is an anti-saloon man at all times, even when no question about their method of running is before the people. His attitude at this time was, of course, to be expected.

SAN FRANCISCO PEOPLE.

"He says the keeping open of the saloons will deprive us of $100,000 of the funds of the San Francisco Relief Committee, which it was planned to send over here to help support refugees in the local relief camps.

"But that money was not intended to help Oakland. It was

FINDS FATHER'S BONES

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—The remains of Fred H. Stanley, a letter carrier, were recovered yesterday from the ruins of a building at the northwest corner of Sixth and Folsom streets by his son, John T. Stanley. On the morning of the earthquake the letter carrier was crushed between falling walls and in a few hours the fire had incinerated all that was mortal of him with the exception of a handful of bones which were found by the son. Ever since the fatal morning when the coat the life of his father young Stanley has been searching for his parent. Last evening he was rewarded by finding human bones in close proximity to where the father slept. A razor and shaving mug and material in a few hours the fire had incinerated all that was mortal of him with the exception of a handful of bones which were found by the son.

J. P. EDOFF TALKS ON THE SALOON QUESTION

Frederick S. Stratton Makes a Reply to Criticism to Edoff.

"I am not interested in the liquor question," said James P. Edoff, of the Oakland Citizens' Relief Committee, when asked for a statement of his views on the proposed Sunday closing, "excepting so far as Fred S. Stratton has linked it with the relief of San Francisco's refugees, in which I am deeply interested, by representing that unless the Oakland saloons are closed for thirty days no more funds can be obtained from the General Relief Committee at San Francisco for which Oakland is a 'suppliant'."

NOT A SUPPLIANT.
"Why," said Mr. Edoff, "Oakland is not a suppliant. Her own citizens need no charity. All of the relief work to which we have been devoted has been tendered to the destitute refugees from San Francisco who have sought refuge here and which San Francisco is in honor bound to provide for."

Mr. Edoff recounted at great length the history of the early work of the local relief committee when it had at least 100,000 refugees to provide for without any advance knowledge of where the money was to come from to pay for them.

PROVIDED BLANKETS.

"When we found that we had to provide blankets to cover those who were absolutely destitute and had no shelter we were unable to get them from William Rutherford of the California Cotton Mills, who is now posing as a purist, without some guarantee for the payment."

"In fact," added Mr. Edoff, "we had to put up $500 in greenbacks with Salinger & Co. as security before Rutherford would let us have them, and yet they were wanted to cover those we had found sleeping on the wet grass in front of St. John's Episcopal church without any kind of covering and for whom we obtained temporary shelter in the drill room of Rev. Father Dempsey's church, St. Mary's."

AS A BUSINESS MAN.

"As a business man," continued Mr. Edoff, "I visited the San Francisco relief committee to ask them to contribute funds for their destitute who sought an asylum in Oakland, as they were receiving funds from all quarters for relief purposes. I surmised we would want $150,000. I asked for that amount. They agreed to give us $100,000. We have been paid $50,000. The other $50,000 is hung up, so Mr. Stratton says unless we close the saloons for thirty days I have been dragged into the saloon side of the issue through my former connection, as president, with the California Protective Association, an organization formed to elevate the standard of the liquor traffic, which after the accomplishment of its objects, disbanded about ten years ago. Since then the order of the Knights of the Royal Archers was organized to maintain the standard and weed out the undesirable element granted licenses. Of the 260 saloon licenses in Oakland about 200 belong to the Royal Archers. The rest are illegible. Now it is proposed to visit the sins of those who cannot become members of the Royal Archers because they do not conform to the conduct of their business with their ties upon the membership of the order. The Royal Archers have sought my advice at various times since the fire and I have advised to be circumspect in the conduct of business and carry it on without giving offense to the public or an opportunity for the revival of the local option movement."

EARLY CLOSING.

"Early closing has been adopted by them, and they have closed their places at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon in accordance with that advice. They are paying about $100,000 a year toward the city's revenues, which the local optionists, should they have their way, would add to the tax on property."

"Mr. Edoff holds that Oakland cannot care for San Francisco refugees unless the funds are furnished as promised, and according to the army records there are still 15,000 occupying the relief camps. He says the San Francisco relief board has endeavored to make the Oakland board a sub-committee, but also holds has induced this city's committee to preserve its identity. Then an effort was made to get the committee to become a part of the Red Cross organization and submit to its orders. "We are willing at any time," said Mr. Edoff, "to turn everything over to the Red Cross and render a faithful account of our stewardship."

WANTS CORRECTION.

In a note to the Los Angeles relief committee, Mayor Phelan notes the fact that supplies and money are being sent from Los Angeles to Oakland, and he informs it that Oakland has already received $100,000 from his committee. Mr. Edoff has sent the following letter to ex-Mayor Phelan on the subject:

Oakland, Cal., May 25, 1906.
Hon. James D. Phelan, chairman San Francisco Relief Committee, San Francisco, Cal. Dear Sir: I beg leave to call your attention to a statement of yours in the Chronicle of May 25th, in which you state in the letter to Los Angeles relief committee that you have already paid the Oakland relief committee ($100,000) one hundred thousand dollars.

Reg to state that all the Oakland relief committee has received ($50,000) fifty thousand dollars.

Kindly correct this statement, and very greatly oblige, yours very truly,

JAMES P. EDOFF,
Chairman auditing committee, Oakland Relief Committee.

FRED STRATTON'S REPLY.

Regarding the strictures passed by Mr. Edoff on his position regarding the closing of the saloons, Port Collector Stratton, in an interview this morning disclaimed doing anything except as the spokesman of the San Francisco relief committee, of which he was a member. "At my request that committee agreed to give Oakland $100,000. It has given $50,000, agreed to give Santa Rosa $25,000, Berkeley $25,000, Alameda $50,000. It assumed no moral obligation, however, to pay all it promised, for that depended upon the user. Santa Rosa, as a matter of fact, got only $50,000; Berkeley got the same, and Alameda received $100,000. An account has been asked from the Oakland committee as to the manner in which the money obtained has been used. Auditor Charles W. Beebe of the Oakland finance committee's first report showed that $12,000 had been expended, and that there was then $28,000 in bank. A subsequent report made by Mr. Beebe, only a few days ago, shows that with obligations incurred and outstanding, as well as bids paid, the $50,000 had been used up, and that the debts incurred brought up the committee's obligations to $65,000; but how the money has been spent no report has been made, nor has any report been made of the resources of the Oakland committee in bank. As to the resolution adopted forbidding the granting of any more money to Oakland unless it closes the saloons for thirty days, I had nothing to do, and was excused from voting."

"I appeared before the council merely as a citizen of Oakland, voicing the sentiments of the committee in San Francisco and a personal knowledge of the views entertained by General Greeley. And, by the way, Oakland contains today two months' supplies for the relief camps; but these are army rations. What the committee's money has been spent for is unknown. The San Francisco committee has, of course, a right to know what has been done with it. Besides, the Oakland relief committee is in no large financial position. It has received large sums of money and supplies from other sources which are, doubtless, far from being exhausted."

AN "EXCLAMATORY" AILMENT.

A colored man in the employ of Representative James D. Richardson of Tennessee was detailing to a friend the particulars of a relative's illness, when, according to the Congressman, the following dialogue ensued between the two darkies:

"Yes, street!" exclaimed the negro first referred to, "Nose is sure a sick man. He's got exclamatory rheumatism."

"You mean inflammatory rheumatism," explained the better informed colored man, "do word 'exclamatory' means to yell."

"Yes, sir, I know it does," quickly responded the other, in a tone of decided conviction, "and dat's jest what de trouble is—dat man yell all de time."—Success.

LOOKING FOR REMAINS OF LOVED ONES

Death List in San Francisco Now Numbers 402—Digging in the Ruins.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—The total number of deaths caused by fire and earthquake, up to noon to date, according to the records of Coroner Walsh, amount to 402. Day by day the death list grows steadily. Just when the harvest of death now being gleaned from the ruins will cease is a difficult thing to determine. It is probable that for the next two years charred bones will be recovered from the area of desolation. As yet there has been no effort on the part of the owners of property in the Mission district to clear away the debris except in a few cases. The work will undoubtedly begin at an early date and the death list then will be added to very largely. Thus far the bones secured from the ruins have been recovered as the result of the individual searches of distracted relatives.

LOOKING FOR LOVED ONES.

For more than a month the pathetic sight of a son, brother or husband groping with shovel in the gray cement and burned cement and brick for the remains of some dear one has been daily witnessed. Passersby and curiosity seekers would pause a moment to watch the digger, little realizing the motive of the worker. Thus far fully twenty persons have brought a little handful of bones to Coroner Walsh, stating that they belonged to a wife, father or some other close relative.

Many of the searchers in the ruins have come from other cities to make their grieved search in the hope of finding even the bones of a relative that some religious ceremonial might be observed.

LOOKING FOR REMAINS.

From the number that has already been reported to the morgue it is a safe estimate that fully one hundred persons or more are at the present time engaged in the melancholy task of tunneling into the debris, intent of robbing death of all its victory. The work of the individuals is necessarily slow, and for that reason it has taken a month and more for the searchers to remove a sufficient amount of ashes to reach the spot where death overtook some loved one. In many cases the search has proved futile, there being no charred bones to indicate that fire had claimed a life. Where all trace has been lost the tireless energy of the searchers in going over the same ground again and again is a sight so infinitely sad that to see it will probably not be witnessed again in this generation.

When the contractor and builder come with their more powerful implements many bones will be uncovered, but the hope of ever identifying them will be gone forever. It is probably a safe estimate to state that there yet remain in the ruins the bones of at least 500 persons.

DALTON TO TAKE APPEAL

Declares Key Route Title to Water Front is Invalid

The petition of the Henry Dalton Sons Company for a permanent injunction against the Oakland, San Francisco and San Jose Railway to stop it from proceeding with the prosecution of its proposed improvements along the bay shore in West Oakland was denied by Judge W. H. Waste this morning and Attorneys Snook & Church and William Lair Hill were given thirty days in which to prepare a bill of exceptions preparatory to taking an appeal to the Supreme Court. Practically all of the contentions of both sides in this matter were presented to Judges Ellsworth, Waste and Ogden sitting in bank, a week ago, when a request for a temporary restraining order was denied. There was, however, some doubt in the minds of the attorneys as to their being able to appeal from this decision and they then requested an order to show cause why a permanent injunction should not be granted the Daltons. It was upon this showing that the hearing this morning was predicated. The case was again submitted to Judge Waste upon the facts and depositions as presented at the former hearing with a few minor additions covering certain points raised during the arguments the whole matter was then submitted to the court. Judge Waste said to the court, "If your Honor's mind is firmly made up on this question, and is so far fixed that it cannot be changed, then I do not wish to consume any more time in arguing the matter. If, however, you think that argument would clear up this matter at all I should like to have the opportunity of arguing this matter more fully."

In reply Judge Waste said, "My mind was satisfied in regard to the matter before us at the former hearing of the case and it was upon this opinion that with the other judges we made the ruling we did. But since the case has become even more firmly convinced by reading several other decisions, one by the Supreme Court of the United States in which I believe the same points were raised and I can therefore say that I believe further argument would be useless."

The matter was thereupon submitted and Judge Waste stated that the petition for a permanent injunction was denied. The request was made that "if I have been misled by the counsel of the Dalton Sons Company, I am prepared to be prepared and Attorneys Harmon Bell and Edward Engle both stated that they were willing to grant all the time they might require and a request for thirty days was granted."

Mr. Dalton claimed that the title of the Key Route people is invalid and he will take the case to the highest court in the land.

The Daltons have been using the water front facing on their property for thirty years. They claim that the Key Route title to the land is absolutely valueless.

A RANK TRAITOR.

Three small boys were walking south on Broadway near Colfax one morning talking about another boy they knew. "Jimmy ain't acting right," said one kid as he took a bite of taffy candy. "On the hall park last week I saw him kiddy another fellow out of a knowhole what the other fellow got first."

"That ain't so," replied another, "but I seen him do something that quered him with me. I ain't got no use for him now."

"What was he doing?" asked the third. "He was takin' care of the bats for the Omaha tea-hoy, earnestly."

"Quered" Jimmy with the three. They declared him a traitor.

CHURCH PEOPLE HAPPY

Union Sentiment Reached a High Point Today.

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 25.—Church union sentiment reached its highest pitch in the Presbyterian general assembly here to-day when a delegation of seventeen commissioners from the Cumberland Presbyterian assembly were received in the assembly of the northern church.

Stated Clerk W. H. Roberts announced to the assembly who they were, and then introduced them one by one to Moderator Hunter Cobbett, the Cumberland Presbyterian moderator, Ira Lamirth being first presented. When the moderators of the churches, which were two yesterday and one to-day, clasped hands exactly in the center and at the front edge of the stage, the demonstration of church unity, commissioners and visitors realizing that actual union had at last come to pass.

The visitors were then presented to the assembly, and each delivered a brief address, expressing joy and gratitude at the consummation of the reunion of the two churches.

The assembly to-day passed a resolution providing for a combination of all evangelical churches against the liquor traffic. Without comment the report on church union was adopted. The resolution provided that the churches should elect a committee of five, including a splendid church at Havana, which was the largest church in the world, to go to South Dakota, to the great department were $10,000. The resolution also provided for the necessity of contributions for Cuba and California, the latter because of the recent earthquake and fire.

TO OPEN TRAINING QUARTERS.

Mr. Alfred G. Vanderbilt will have an elaborate celebration June 16. Alfred G. Vanderbilt was appointed June 15th as the date of the opening of his new training quarters for horses. There will be only a few of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt here for the occasion at that time, but those who are not will be brought in Mr. Vanderbilt's private car, on which he always travels, in going between Newport and New York.

Though there will be many interesting details to mark the "housewarming," which the occasion will be called, only the general form has yet been determined upon. The festivities will begin with a grand dinner, which will be served in the dining room, which is a part of the establishment. There will follow dancing and a presentation of Mr. Vanderbilt's thoroughbred in the ring. It is even stated that there may be an amateur circus, but this is doubted in view of the fact that the entertainment, and possibility of holding them, as all the performers would be busy in New York, many miles from the ring.

It is assured, though, that there will be some riding and driving "stunts," for which ribbons and favors of various kinds will be offered. The entertainment, although informal, will be very elaborate, and will conclude with an early morning "supper."

TEN YEARS WITHOUT EATING.

The death has occurred at Kingstown of a man named Joseph Knight, who for more than ten years had lived without eating. Eleven years ago, while on board the yacht Elba, at Gosport, he accidentally drank some detergent instead of stout. He was removed from the yacht to a man-of-war in Gosport harbor, where first aid was given him, and afterwards placed in the hands of a surgeon, who introduced a tube through his side into his stomach. Through this tube he was fed for the rest of his life. Wheeling about the town in a bath chair, poor Knight was always an object of sympathy to residents and visitors. Although unable to eat, he was always able to enjoy a smoke. He was about 40 years of age.—London Graphic.

REALTY TIPS ENRICH PEOPLE.

Three Members of New York's Force Have Made a Million.
A fair share of the many fortunes that have been made within the past few years by investment in real estate in the borough of the Bronx has gone to members of New York's "Finest." The department has many policemen who are reputed to be worth hundreds of thousands of dollars.
The latest members of the police force to win a fair competence by investments of this character are John P. O'Brien of the Morrisania station and William G. Burgin of University Heights.
The latter is the favorite of fortune to the tune of one-half million dollars in real property, while the former is worth about $300,000. Within two weeks the latter has turned a real estate venture that netted him within that time a profit of $13,000.
Burgin was at one time a gardener upon the very property that he now owns, having served in that capacity for former Mayor Edson at pay of $50 a month. That was twenty years ago, when but few saw any future for Bronx property. He managed to get upon the police force, where by dint of strict economy he gathered together the first few dollars that have now put him beyond the pale of want.
Policeman John J. O'Leary is another member of "the force" who has made money fast in the Morrisania district. He is reputed to have an estate valued at one-half million dollars. Thus the three policemen are between them worth one million dollars.

SHIRTS AND GERMS.

Cause for the Celebrity into Which Nordhausen, Germany, Has Come.
Nordhausen, Germany, has come into sudden celebrity because its authorities have ordered the women to stop wearing skirts that trail. They say that such skirts, in sweeping the streets, become carriers of disease germs and are therefore a nuisance. The edict has met with great success. The dressmakers declare that it is impossible to make or wear any other kind of clothes than those with streamers, because no orders have as yet come from Paris which allow of such a thing. In America there is an order known as the Raiting Daisies, because in wet weather they have agreed to wear short skirts without waiting for permission from Paris; but the missionaries which the Raiting Daisies have sent to Samoa and Japan have not reached Germany. As yet, and Paris rules still govern in Nordhausen.
We do not know to what these rules against the microbes will lead. The germ has low in the dust and is triumphant.

ANDREA SBARBORO SAW DENICKE SHOOT THE UNKNOWN ITALIAN

Declares That the Man Had Been Stealing Chickens and Had Assaulted a Drunken Marine.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—The mystery surrounding the murder of an unknown Italian is being slowly unraveled. The arrest of Ernest H. Denicke, son of Colonel E. A. Denicke of the Swiss-American Bank for the murder has thrown some light on the case, but as yet the body of the murdered man has not been found. It is a strange story and all the facts have not yet been given out.

THE ARREST.

Young Denicke was found at the residence of his brother, Attorney F. A. Denicke, 3001 California street. He did not deny the shooting, but claimed it was justifiable. He was soon joined at police headquarters by his father and brother and Abe Ruef. In a few minutes he was released on a bond of $5000, accepted by Police Judge Shortall, on a charge of manslaughter, the sureties being the father and brother.

In view of the statements of witnesses to the shooting published in the papers, who claimed that the killing of the Italian was a cold blooded affair, surprise was expressed that Denicke should have been charged with only manslaughter. No one seemed to know who had fixed the degree of crime.

Judge Shortall said all he knew was that he was asked to accept the bond. Assistant District Attorney Rodgers said that all he was asked was to prepare the bond and Chief Dinan said he did not know who had made the charge manslaughter.

TO QUESTION THEM.

The only other person who was present besides the Denickses was Abe Ruef, and it was supposed that he was the one who engineered the proceedings. District Attorney Langdon, when he heard the unusual turn of affairs, called upon Chief Dinan, and the Chief promised to have the witnesses in the District Attorney's office this afternoon at 2 o'clock, so that after questioning them the District Attorney may fix the degree of crime and get some one to swear to a complaint.

Denicke is twenty-nine years of age, a graduate of the University of California, where he was captain of the cadet corps, which gave him the rank of a retired captain of the National Guard. He is a mining and civil engineer and had for five or six years up till September last, when he returned to the city, been in South Africa.

MILITARY DUTY.

During the Boer war he performed military duty in protecting the dynamite works of the De Beers Company. Since his return he had been following his profession here, with offices in the Union Trust Company's building, which was destroyed by the fire. At the time of the fire he was living at the family residence at 1000 Mason street, his father being in San Robles.

Regarding the shooting, his brother made the following statement: "When the fire threatened the family home my brother saved the women folks and took them to my home. Then he went to Chief Dinan and was sworn in as a special officer. On the Thursday he attached himself to a company of the regulars and served with them all that day and night, fighting the fire on Telegraph Hill and the Latin quarter. He saved the life of a blind man 80 years of age, who was in a burning building. On Friday he started in to fight the fire on the water front and tried to save warehouses and other buildings.

SAVES LIVES.

"When the oil tanks and the chemical factory were ablaze he saved the lives of several drunken men who had broken into a bonded warehouse and were in a drunken sleep on the floor of the Hobbs-Wall box factory. He found himself surrounded by fire and intended leaping into the water to save himself when the tug Governor Markham bore in sight. He boarded her and the captain instructed him to run out the hose lines to save Lombard street wharf and to impress any men he saw to help him.

"My brother went ashore and impressed a marine. Just then a man weighing about 200 pounds was seen stealing live chickens and my brother told the sentry to impress him on the hose line. My brother turned his back and had walked back fifteen yards when he heard an exclamation, and when he wheeled round he saw the sentry trying to drive the man, who appeared to be an Italian and very excited, to the hose line. The man grabbed hold of the sentry's gun and wrestled it from him. My brother called upon the man to stop, but he raised the gun to his shoulder, and to save the life of the sentry, who was a much smaller man than the Italian, my brother fired three shots from his revolver at him.

NOT INTOXICATED.

"The gun dropped out of the man's hand and he fell. After restoring the gun to the sentry my brother asked some passerby to procure an ambulance to take the wounded Italian to a hospital and then returned to his duties. Neither my brother nor the sentry was intoxicated. My brother did not know that the man had died till he read the story in the morning papers yesterday. He kept fighting fires on Saturday and went to Berkeley, where the family had gone. He was in an exhausted condition and his hair and eyebrows were singed. He returned his special officer's star a few days later.

"He sent for E. B. Young, his attorney, yesterday morning, telling him he would give himself up to the police. This is a poor reward for a man who risked his life for four days to save the lives and property of people imperiled by the fire."

SBARBORO'S STATEMENT.

Andrea Sbarboro, president of the Italian-American Bank, Italian-Swiss Colony and Mutual Loan Association, was in Denicke's company at the time of the shooting. Sbarboro says he saw all that happened. Without expressing any opinion touching the necessity for the shooting of the citizen, Sbarboro gives a circumstantial account of the whole affair.

"This shooting occurred on Lombard street, near the Italian-Swiss winery."

AT PARTY IN ALAMEDA.

BERKELEY, May 25.—Rev. Willie Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Martin of Berkeley, has recovered from a violent attack of ptomaine poisoning, which caused the family considerable alarm. Although now he is entirely out of danger, fear was felt at first that the young minister would succumb to the poisoning. Mr. Martin's illness was caused by eating heartily of a tainted dish while at a party in Alameda.

Rev. W. Martin is now stationed in Alameda, at the First Methodist Church. He is a graduate of the University of California, receiving his degree with high honors. In his senior year he won the Carnot medal in the big forensic contest held yearly against the Stanford debaters.

PLEASANT AFTERNOON.
BERKELEY, May 25.—A pleasant afternoon was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. Henry W. Taylor, 1244 Walnut street, yesterday, by the members of the Aloha Five Hundred Club.

The Taylor home was decorated in greens and blossoms, and a profusion of pleasant hours were passed away in those pretty rooms. Red and green was the color scheme, and a profusion of red roses lent their fragrance and beauty to the scene. After several interesting games of "500," in which the highest scores were attained by Mrs. J. A. Patton and Miss Delzie Thomas, the hostess served her guests with a dainty collation.

Those who enjoyed Mrs. Taylor's hospitality were Mrs. F. A. Earl, Mrs. James Hunt, Mrs. W. Lowe, Mrs. C. H. Towne, Mrs. E. L. Hazen, Mrs. J. Patton, Mrs. Harry Earl, Mrs. Godfrey, Mrs. Ladd, Mrs. Delzie Thomas.

"Tommy," said the teamster, "don't you know better than to talk aloud in school?"

"But what is a fellow to do?" queried Tommy. "You said the other day mustn't whisper."

Does Insurance Insure?

"We will pay every dollar of our liabilities," is an expression frequently uttered by insurance men. It sounds well and has a comforting ring if one does not inquire too closely into what are considered liabilities from an insurance standpoint. What constitutes liability is the question which lies at the base of the adjustment of San Francisco fire losses.

When we come to examine into the meaning of the reassuring phrase so often used as a defense against criticism by the underwriting fraternity, we find there is a disposition to dispute liability on technical and flimsy grounds. After an insurance man says "We will pay every dollar of our liabilities," he generally manages to get in this saving statement, "We are standing on our legal rights."

What leads us to believe that, in this instance at least, the insurance business is not a good moral risk. But perhaps we are judging the business by the attitude of the professional adjuster, whose business is to save money for his employers at the expense of the policyholders, and who must make good if he is to draw a big salary and live on the fat of the land. Still, the adjuster who is most successful in compromising losses and scaling down policies is the most favored man around the general manager's office, and therefore the insurance companies must be held responsible for his acts.

The bluffing, arguing, technical adjuster has a fine field for his talents in San Francisco just now. He is playing dynamite and earthquake shock for all they are worth, incidentally giving policyholders cold shivers by intimating that his company will have to go to the wall if forced to pay in full. He talks as if the burned out citizens of San Francisco should do something for the relief of the insurance companies, and has a good deal to say about justice to policyholders in other cities.

The dynamite excuse is inherently dishonest, and vicious in principle. Every building blown up in San Francisco would have burned up anyway, hence the pretense of non-liability on this ground is simply a crooked subterfuge. Moreover, to admit the plea of non-liability would be to offer a premium for letting property burn instead of trying to save some buildings by destroying others that are doomed in any event.

The insurance men do not seem to realize that they are raising the fundamental and world-important issue, Does insurance insure? Whether the companies are unable or are unwilling to live up to the spirit and letter of their contracts, the result is the same. If they cannot meet their just liabilities their business is unsound and their guarantees of little worth. If they can pay but are desirous of evading their honest debts, then the business is not much better than three-card monte. No matter how much they can save by the bluffing and flimflamming of adjusters and shyster attorneys, they cannot evade the issue which their own attitude, since the San Francisco catastrophe, has presented.

There is no escape from the conclusion that insurance is a poor investment if the business is either crooked or unsound.

Some great issues are being raised in the Kansas gubernatorial campaign. Governor Hoch, who is a candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket, is charged with attempting to kiss the wife of former Governor Stanley more than a year ago. Ex-Senator W. A. Harris, his Democratic opponent, is accused of serving in the Confederate army. Hoch has made an excellent Governor and Harris made a very creditable record in the Senate; indeed, he ranks among the very few men Kansas has sent to the Senate who were both able and upright. The kissing issue raised against Governor Hoch is beneath contempt. As he has done his duty and the State is strongly Republican, there is no reason why he should not be re-elected by a large majority. It is conceded, however, that by reason of his character and attainments, Senator Harris will prove a formidable candidate.

The Campaign in Iowa.

The contest between Governor Cummins and Congressman Perkins for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in Iowa involves the Presidential prospects of Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, Secretary of the Treasury. Shaw is backing Perkins for all he is worth, and the contest is a strenuous one. The issue is the tariff. Governor Cummins wants to revise the tariff and tax incomes. Shaw and Perkins are standpatters of the stalwart type. Their supporters charge Cummins with preaching Democratic doctrines and assailing Republican principles.

A keen interest in the result is manifested in Washington, for the outcome will not only determine Secretary Shaw's standing as a Presidential candidate, but will sensibly affect the declarations of the next Republican national convention regarding the tariff.

Governor Guild of the Bay State is also a tariff revisionist, and if such influential Republican States as Massachusetts and Iowa—one in the extreme Eastern group and the other in the Middle West—unite in demanding a revision of the tariff it will have a sensible effect in determining the future attitude of the party toward the protective policy.

It cannot be successfully denied that the tariff and income tax views advocated by Governor Cummins do not differ materially from those advocated by William J. Bryan. The large Cummins following is proof, however, that there is a strong sentiment within the Republican party in favor of revising the tariff schedules and reducing the duties. In other words tariff reform has become an issue within the Republican party to an extent that threatens a new alignment in several States.

Arthur S. Hardy, who was recalled recently from his post as minister to Spain, has deemed it necessary to inform the public, from his standpoint, why he lost his job. Mr. Hardy and Bellamy Storer ought to form a hard luck club, with President Roosevelt's picture turned to the wall and a bust of Ben Tillman in the place of honor. It is hard to convince political "has-beens" that their complaints of ill treatment do not greatly interest the public and never affect the course of events. Messrs. Hardy and Storer are merely successors to a long line of kicked out officeholders who have assumed that their personal grievances constituted an issue of public policy.

Rev. C. R. Brown says the finance committee of the General Relief Committee in San Francisco promised the Oakland Relief Committee an additional $50,000 from the contributed relief fund to aid in providing for the necessities of San Francisco refugees before the question of closing the saloons in Oakland was raised. Nobody will question the veracity or sincerity of Dr. Brown in this matter. Dr. Brown is a leader in the saloon-closing movement, but he recognizes the fact that there is no rational connection between regulating the sale of liquor in this city and the relief work of the Oakland committee. The City Council will rightly be held responsible for keeping the saloons open, but they are accountable to the people of Oakland, not to the San Francisco Relief Committee. The San Francisco committee should do its duty, redeem its promise and render the service for which it was constituted, regardless of what the Oakland City Council does. The saloon-closing question is an issue by itself, and must be judged on its merits. There is no moral justification for the San Francisco committee's setting up the acts of the Oakland City Council as a pretense for shirking its own duties and responsibilities. The Council has its duty to perform, but so has the San Francisco committee. No dereliction on the part of the Council can excuse an injustice to the refugees and the Oakland Relief Committee.

Chancellor Day of Syracuse.

The blatant defense of Standard Oil methods made by Chancellor Day of Syracuse University, has ended that gentleman's usefulness as a college president, and his enforced retirement now seems a foregone conclusion. Dr. Day admitted that he had secured $1,000,000 for Syracuse University from Rockefeller and his associates, but denied that this fact influenced his judgment. Perhaps not, but it undoubtedly moved him to enter a defense of the Rockefeller corporation right after the President had transmitted to Congress Commissioner Garfield's report of the result of his investigation of the operations of the Standard Oil Company. Not only were Dr. Day's views expressed in the spirit and language of extreme partisanship, they were a direct arraignment of the President of the United States and an indictment of the official integrity of Commissioner Garfield.

The fact that Dr. Day appeared as a voluntary champion of the Standard Oil monopoly at this particular time drew upon him and the great educational institution over which he presides the indignant attention of the whole country. It had just been announced that the pastor of John D. Rockefeller's church was likely to be made the successor of Dr. Harper as president of Chicago University, often referred to as the Standard Oil university, and the question began to be asked, Have the trusts set out to capture control of the great seats of learning? The tendency previously manifested at Brown and Stanford to drive men of independent views out of the privately endowed universities made this question pertinent, and Dr. Day's militant defense of trustism gave it a pregnancy and force that appealed to all classes. Hence Syracuse University began to suffer in public estimation in a way that threatened its future influence and usefulness—a very natural consequence, by the way.

Syracuse is one of the great denominational universities of the country, hence there was a religious aspect to the attitude of its presiding head which failed not to impress the public mind. It brought the church to the bar of public opinion and created a deep dissatisfaction in the minds of both clergy and layman, who if they do not totally disagree with Dr. Day, believe he spoke without wisdom in a controversy which he should have avoided, and which circumstances made it indelicate for him to enter.

A citizen of Oregon has directed THE TRIBUNE'S attention to the fact that Portland has not been given full credit for what she did for the relief of San Francisco. Portland's contributions have only been published in detail, which has had the effect of conveying to the minds of many the impression that the Oregon metropolis was a niggard giver. On the contrary, Portland was most generous. Her citizens contributed $250,000 in cash and sixty carloads of provisions to the relief of San Francisco. No people gave a heartier or more liberal response to the call of distress in California than did the Oregonians, especially the citizens of Portland.

No, dear friend, all is not lost. Sam Braunhart is still alive.

The local newspaper organ of the Oakland street car monopoly blows a loud blast in favor of Mayor Schmitz for Governor. It is easy to discern in this a "knock" for Governor Pardee. It will not hurt the Governor, however. Nor will Mayor Schmitz profit much by the zeal of some of his new-found friends.

The Omaha Bee is a sweet-scented paper these days. It is full of Rosewater. The proprietor of the Bee is named Rosewater and he is making a fight for the United States Senate. The Bee it seems is unanimously for him, and it is determined its readers shall know it.

ORIGIN OF SUB ROSA.

The origin of the phrase "Sub Rosa" (under the rose) implies secrecy and had its origin during the year 477, B. C., at which time Pausanias, the commander of the confederate fleet of the Spartans and Athenians, was engaged in an intrigue with Xerxes for the subjugation of Greece to the Persian rule, and for the hand of the monarch's daughter in marriage. The negotiations were carried on in a building attached to the temple of Minerva called the Brazen house, the roof of which was a garden forming a bower of roses, so that the plot, which was conducted with the utmost secrecy, was literally matured under the rose. Pausanias, however, was betrayed by one of his emissaries, who by a preconcerted plan with the ephori (the overseers and counselors of state, five in number), gave them a secret opportunity to hear from the lips of Pausanias himself the acknowledgment of his treason. To escape arrest, he fled to the temple of Minerva, and, as the sanctity of the place forbade intrusion for violence or harm of any kind, the people walled up the edifice with stones and left him to die of starvation. His mother laid the first stone.

S.S.S. FOR THE BLOOD

The purifying action and curative properties of this great remedy have made "S. S. S. For The Blood" a household saying, and thousands who are today enjoying perfect health owe their recovery from blood or skin diseases to this universally used blood medicine. S. S. S. is made entirely from roots, herbs and barks which possess not only cleansing and healing ingredients, but building-up and strengthening properties to keep the blood in perfect order. No one can be well when the blood is impure; they lack the energy and strength that is natural with health, the complexion becomes pale and sallow, the vitality is weakened and they suffer from a general broken down condition. When the waste or refuse matter, which nature intends shall be thrown off, is left in the system because of a sluggish, torpid condition of the expelling members, it is absorbed into the blood, making this vital stream weak, sour and acid, and its condition is manifested by boils, pimples, rashes, blotches and other eruptions of the skin. S. S. S. goes into the circulation and removes every particle of blood taint or poison of every character, makes the blood fresh and strong and gives energy to the entire body. When the blood has been cleansed by S. S. S. all skin diseases and eruptions pass away and the smooth, clear skin, glowing with health, shows that the body is being nourished by rich, pure blood. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are all deep-seated blood disorders, and for their cure nothing equals S. S. S. It does not injuriously affect the most delicate parts of the body and can be taken with perfect safety by old or young. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired without charge.

KAHN'S—THE ALWAYS BUSY CORNER

And still the people come; now what does it mean?

May 25, 1906.

When the S. F. shoppers thronged to Oakland just after the fire many of them simply followed the signs and bought wherever merchandise was sold.

But experience came with time and gradually the strangers learned where stocks were greatest, where treatment was most courteous, and where facilities were best adapted to their needs.

To such stores the business swung, and Kahn's was among those favored.

And then there came another change. After folks found where they could get what they wanted, when they learned that "Little Oakland" was pretty big in every way (and that we had quite a bit of stretch in reserve, besides), and that they need have no fear of a shortage of goods, then they began to look at the prices.

And then Kahn's, the always busy store, got busier than ever—the woman who counted the pennies from habit, and the man who counted them from necessity, found at Kahn's the solution of their buying difficulties.

They found that they could get the best of dependable merchandise at Kahn's for less than they were asked to pay for goods, not quite as worthy, at many other places.

Then is when the business turned almost exclusively to Kahn's, the store that for years the economical people of Alameda County have patronized.

And what does it mean when the people keep coming, some coming back to buy, others coming back with friends?

It means simply this: That they have found, as thousands have found before, that IT PAYS TO SHOP AT KAHN'S. There is absolutely no other answer to the question.

Oh, once I could not understand
The sob within the throat of spring—
The shrilling of the frogs nor why
The birds so passionately sing.

That was before your beauty came
And stooped to teach my soul desire,
When on these mortal lips you laid
The magic and immortal fire.

I wondered why the sea should seem
So gray, so lonely, and so bold;
The sigh of level-driving snows
In winter so forlornly cold.

I wondered what it was should give
The scarlet autumn pomps their pride,
And paint with colors not of earth
The glory of the mountain side.

I could not tell why you should dream
And worship at the evening storm;
And yet must go with eager feet
Where danger and where splendor are.

I could not guess why men at times,
Beholding beauty, should go mad
With joy or sorrow deep despair
Or some unknown delight they had.

MOTORMAN IS BADLY INJURED

ACCIDENT OCCURS ABOUT THREE MILES FROM WEST BERKELEY

BERKELEY, May 25.—Motorman John Butts of car 54 of the East Shore & Suburban electric road that runs from the county line north of West Berkeley to Richmond was badly injured yesterday morning in a collision with the county line car from Oakland. Just as his car was approaching the county line station about three miles from West Berkeley Butts lost control of his car and the runaway gained momentum down the steep grade and with terrific force crashed into the county line car which was waiting at the station. Had it not been for a log which acted as a buffer between the two cars Butts would have been instantly killed. But the huge timber broke the force of the collision and saved the motorman's life. But as it was Butts was sent crashing through the glass front of the car and was frightfully cut about the hands face and chest. He was taken to an Oakland hospital for treatment.

The fronts of both cars were smashed and the windows in both cars were broken. Luckily there were but four or five passengers on the car when it started on its headlong course. None of them were injured except to get a severe shaking up. The motorman in charge of the car of the county line was not at his post as it was not the time for departure otherwise he would have been instantly killed.

MANY MEN ARE WANTED FOR WORK

BERKELEY, May 25.—John P. Heiman Deputy State Labor Commissioner or visited Berkeley yesterday afternoon for the purpose of securing one hundred men to work on the United R. Road line in the San Francisco Bay area. He called upon Mr. J. M. Volmer and asked him to put in several men for the work. Volmer recommended several men as a result of these five refugees from the work.

It is our intention to put in men to do the work for all the men who were burned out in the San Francisco fire and all who are now idle. If the plans of the authorities are carried out all the assistance will be withdrawn from the men who absolutely refuse to go to work. During the first few days following the fire 350,000 were being fed with food provided at the relief stations but this number has now been diminished to 60,000.

Whenever we find the men who are now accepting assistance refuse to work their food supply is at once cut off. Plenty of work with good pay can be found for the refugees who are now located in Berkeley and if they refuse to make an effort to assist themselves it would be well for the local relief bureau to shut off assistance from downright lazy persons.

DO GOOD WORK

BERKELEY, May 25.—The Floral Society composed of eight young ladies of this city has been doing good work in connection with the relief work in Berkeley and Adams Point by distributing large bouquets in the different hospitals of these places. This society was organized about a fortnight ago and is composed of the following young ladies: Misses Martha Brethun, Reba Galvin, Ethel Statistoff, May Morrison, the Misses Lenry and Cartwright and Mrs. M. B. Eldredge. A number of florists have donated flowers to the society.

VISITS BERKELEY

BERKELEY, May 25.—H. J. McCoy, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in area of the state was in Berkeley yesterday on business matters. He is preparing to leave tomorrow for Minneapolis where the annual conference of the employed office of the Y. M. C. A. of the United States will meet for five days. McCoy will extend his trip to the other cities of the Eastern States and collect funds for the rebuilding of the Y. M. C. A. headquarters in San Francisco. He will be gone for several weeks.

NARROW ESCAPE.

BERKELEY, May 25.—Bert Donnelly of 835 Anthony street had a narrow escape from death while driving a runaway team yesterday afternoon. He was driving a team of young colts along San Pablo avenue when they became frightened and ran away. The horses demolished the wagon, but the young man still retained the reins. He was dragged some distance before the animals could be stopped. Donnelly was considerably bruised about the body but fortunately escaped without any broken bones. He is the son of William J. Donnelly the contractor.

ANEMIA IS CUREDBY DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS AS FOOD CURES HUNGER.

They Are the Most Widely Used and Successful Remedy for all Forms of Debility.

Anemia, whether it results from actual loss of blood, from lack of nutrition due to stomach trouble, or whatever its source, is simply a deficiency of the vital fluid, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood. They do that one thing and they do it well.

"As a girl," says Mrs. Jessie Pink, of 180 East Mill street, Akron, Ohio, "I suffered from nervous indigestion and when I was eighteen years old I was reduced in weight to 93 pounds. I was anemic, nervous, couldn't eat or sleep, was short of breath and the least exertion and had headaches almost constantly. I had a doctor, of course, but I might as well have taken so much water for all the good his medicine did me."

"Finally my vitality and strength were so reduced that I had to take my food for several weeks at a time. I could not digest any solid food and for weeks I did not take any other nourishment than a cup of tea or beef broth."

"While I was sick in bed I stopped all other medicine and began to take the pills. Soon my improvement was very noticeable. My strength began to return, my stomach gave me no pain and just as soon as I began to take solid food I gained in weight. I shall never forget how happy I was when I realized that I was really getting well."

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills certainly saved my life. I am now perfectly well, have regained my normal weight of 120 pounds and I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a wonderful medicine and I have recommended them to hosts of people."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are recommended for stubborn stomach trouble, for all cases of weakness and debility, such as result from fevers and other acute diseases. They are grateful to the most delicate stomach, are a powerful tonic and a perfect blood purifier, and are guaranteed not to contain any harmful drugs. Their double action on the blood and nerves have made them valuable in the treatment of a wide range of diseases, and every claim made for them by the Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is backed by the records of cures. Send for free booklet.

All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

EMPLOYER PAYS
"PULLER-IN'S" FINE

NEW YORK, May 25.—The Times today says:

Samuel Lunderman, one of the most expert of the Park Row puller-in for the retail goods business, learned some things about the Federal law yesterday. Recently he "pulled-in" Private R. H. Cusick of Company G, Fifth U. S. Infantry, and induced him to dispose of his uniform, receiving in exchange a second-hand suit of civilian's clothes.

The clothes deal between the United States and Park Row was reported to a United States Marshal, however, and yesterday the puller-in was arrested. Judge Thomas, in the U. S. District Court yesterday broke the news to Mr. Lunderman that a law was in existence imposing a fine of $1000 on any one introducing the army uniform in the second hand business. His employer paid the fine.

TO GET $1,000,000
ON MARRIAGE DAY

CHICAGO, May 25.—A dispatch to the Record Herald from St. Louis says:

The will of Mrs. Julia Lamp, the widow of William J. Lamp, millionaire brewer, was filed for probate yesterday. The value of her estate is estimated at $1,000,000. Miss Eliza Lamp is left one-seventh of the estate, which is to be paid to her until she is 30 years old, by her brother, William J. Lamp Jr., and Charles A. Lamp. She is to get $1,000,000 on the day of her marriage, and if she dies without issue before she is 30 years old her share will revert to the other heirs. Each of the other six children is to receive a share of the estate, but some of the bequests are conditional.

KILLED AND WOUNDED.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A cable dispatch to the Herald from Buenos Ayres, Argentina, says:

Paraguay telegrams from Asuncion say that the revolutionists in the State of Mato Grosso, headed by Dr. Gen. Erosio Ponce, captured the towns of Combaruba, Santa Ana de Parahibo and Pacome, and are now near Cuyaba, the capital of the State. The Governor, Senor Ponce, arrested the chiefs of the revolutionaries on the 18th inst., but afterward set them at liberty, the revolutionists promising to remain calm. Three days later new arrests were made and Senor Ponce then began his advance toward Cuyaba. Several fights took place and numbers were killed or wounded, but the revolutionists were mostly victorious. The Federal troops protect the neutrals.

Made Happy For Life.

Great happiness came into the home of S. C. Blair, school superintendent, at Albion, N. Y., when his little daughter was restored from the dreadful complaint he named. He says: "My little daughter, Ned, was afflicted with a disease which would not respond to treatment, but grew steadily worse until as a last resort we tried Electric Bitters, and I relate to you the story of her cure. The complaint was a general debility, female weakness, irregular blood and marasmus. It was cured by Osgood Bros. Bitters, corner 7th and Washington, corner 12th. Price 50c."

COUNCILMEN VOTE TO CLOSE SALOONS

Action, However, May Be Changed Monday Night

LAST NIGHT'S BALLOTING: TO CLOSE SALOONS--Donaldson, Elliot, Meese, Pendleton and Thurston. AGAINST CLOSING--Aitken, Burns, Hahn and McAdam. ABSENT--Baccus and Fitzgerald.

The committee of the whole of the City Council last night decided, by a vote of 5 to 4, to recommend to the City Council the passage of Councilman Elliot's resolution calling for the closing of the saloons of Oakland until the present emergency be passed.

This is by no means an indication, however, that the saloons will be ordered closed, for the two members of the council who were absent, Baccus and Fitzgerald, have already declared themselves as opposed to the resolution and unless those favoring it can secure another vote between now and next Monday night, the measure will fail of passage, since any resolution requires six votes, or a majority of the entire council, no matter how many or few members are present.

It was after nine o'clock when nine members of the City Council, having spent a long time in executive session wrestling with the question of closing or not closing the saloons for a short period, emerged into the regular council chamber to consider the matter as a committee of the whole. Councilmen Baccus and Fitzgerald were absent. The lobby was packed.

Councilman Meese was chosen temporary chairman, and at once opened proceedings by requesting the omission of applause, and also that any speeches made should be kept short.

THE OTHER SIDE.

Councilman Burns arose immediately and stated that since one side of this controversy had already been heard, therefore it was but fair to hear the other side. He therefore moved that if any one representing the relief committee were present, he should be heard first, and then some one from the liquor men. This motion was carried.

Councilman Elliot then arose to correct. He said there were some misapprehensions in reference to his resolution calling for the closing of the saloons. He said his resolution provided that the drug stores should continue to dispense liquors, but that this was not satisfactory to some of the councilmen, and at their suggestion this was changed later. Therefore he was astonished to see a statement from the president of the council that the Elliot resolution provided that sales in drug stores should stop.

He also explained that the proposed prevention of the sale of liquors in clubs was not in his original resolution, but was inserted afterward at the request of other councilmen.

"I am willing to accept any reasonable suggestion," he said, "to my resolution. The point is that we want to close the saloons."

"There is also a criticism that we have not set any time for reopening. That is immaterial, for we can reopen them whenever conditions seem to warrant it, and by the same vote by which they are closed."

THAT $50,000.

"I also wish to say that I am sorry this question of the $50,000 from the relief committee of San Francisco for the refugees here has been connected with this matter. It is unwise, and I think the members of the committee here will so consider it upon consideration. I would not vote to close the saloons just to get $50,000, and I do not believe it should be considered in that light."

At the close of Councilman Elliot's explanation of the changes in his original motion, J. P. Edoff, representing the Oakland relief committee, was called on by Chairman Meese. Mr. Edoff said:

"I do not appear here tonight as a representative of the Relief Committee. I appear here as auditor of the Relief Committee and privately."

"The statement has been made here, as I have read in the press, that the Relief Committee of San Francisco has offered $50,000 if we close the saloons."

"I will say that some time after the fire in San Francisco the representatives of the San Francisco relief work came to Oakland to see what we were doing here and were shown about the city by myself and others. After they had seen what was being done they proposed that we become a sub-committee of the San Francisco committee. We had some civic pride and we refused. That committee then went back and reported what was being done in this city and voted an appropriation of $50,000. And promised us another $50,000.

NO PROMISES.

"Other appropriations have been made and I want to say that no promises have been exacted from us in regard to the closing of saloons or otherwise. That I believe is all that I have to say."

P. N. Hanrahan, representing the Knights of the Royal Arch and liquor dealers followed Mr. Edoff. He said: "As a representative of the liquor dealers of Oakland, and as a delegate of the Knights of the Royal Arch, I wish to state a few facts for the consideration of the council, before action is taken on this resolution. I have met a number of the gentlemen who have been active in the effort to close the saloons of this city, and I believe that some of the statements made by them, while made in perfectly good faith, have been the result of hearsay, and that they are unjust to many of the liquor dealers of Oakland, as they are not correct."

"It is true that in several instances things have occurred which have not been entirely creditable to the saloons. There have been one or two days on which the record for drunkenness was large and while I do not wish to criticize men who are engaged in business outside the limits of this city, I will say that I do not believe that Oakland liquor dealers are responsible for all the drunkenness seen on our streets. It is our purpose to elevate as far as possible the business in which we are engaged, and we regret exceedingly that the occurrences to which I have referred have taken place."

CONSIDERATION.

"I want the members of the Council to understand that the men engaged in the liquor business in Oakland, represent interests amounting to over a million dollars, and their interests are worthy of careful consideration at the hands of this Council."

"I also desire to state that the liquor traffic of this city employs between two thousand and two thousand five hundred men, and all these must be taken care of during the time that we will be compelled to close if this resolution is adopted. Our rents must be paid and all our expenses must be met when our places of business are closed as they are when we are allowed to remain open. If we are again compelled to close our doors, these men will be thrown out of employment, just at a time when there is little demand for help."

"Last Sunday nearly all of the saloons men voluntarily closed their places of business. We have the welfare of our city at heart, and we desire, as an organized body of business men, to give all possible aid to the Council and to those who wish to protect the fair name of our city."

"In conclusion I appeal to you, acting as the representative of this body of business men, not to adopt a drastic measure, until after careful consideration, and in the name of the organizations which I represent, I promise the fullest co-operation with your honorable body by the saloonmen and liquor dealers of Oakland."

The Rev. Charles R. Brown, pastor of the First Congregational Church, answered Mr. Hanrahan. Dr. Brown said:

"I can say that Mr. Hanrahan has rendered good service in the relief work that has been done in this city."

"I will say in regard to some statements which are denied by Mr. Hanrahan that I cannot say what authority others had for the statements credited to them, but for what I have said I will say that it has based upon personal observation."

"I went through this city last Sunday and while I will agree that some of the principal saloons on Broadway were closed, I will say that the large majority of saloons in this city are not of the stamp of place Mr. Hanrahan conducts. Those places were not closed and I saw men personally going in and coming out of a large number of them."

"What Mr. Edoff has said is true. He is the auditor of our auditing committee and has done noble work. He said that $50,000 was appropriated by the San Francisco committee and another $50,000 was promised us as soon as we showed the necessity. That promise was made while the saloons were still closed and was in no way contingent upon the closing of the saloons."

BIG INCREASE.

"Another point I wish to make is that drunkenness has been largely increased since the reopening of the saloons following the closed season from May 2d to May 11th. The chief of police has shown me the records and there was an increase of 100 per cent on the Sunday following May 13th over the Sunday preceding the closed season."

"Further, I will say that from the Southern Pacific officials themselves I have had all the proof any one could care for and if any one wishes the name of these men privately, I will give them to them. They told me that some of their cars were rendered unfit for use by drunks and finally had to be cut out of the trains."

"We believe for these reasons that there is a warrant for asking that the saloons be closed for a reasonable period of time. I ask this also for the sake of the fair name of this city. I have just returned from Los Angeles and through the southern part of the state and have talked with people, read the editorials in their papers and I know that if Oakland refuses to do this in the hour of San Francisco's need it will be cited against this city for a long time. I believe this is simply an urgency measure. I have no joker up my sleeve and will say now that this request will not be followed up with a request for a permanent closing. We have set no time for the closing, but we believe that probably thirty days will be sufficient and I hope that for the name of this city you will see it in this light."

A man who said he represented the Royal Arch arose in the audience and made a short speech, in which he declared he did not believe the city of Oakland had done anything to cast a cloud upon its fair name or anything which would warrant the proposed action.

COUNCILMAN BURNS.

Councilman Donaldson moved that the Elliot resolution be recommended to the City Council for passage next Monday night. Councilman Thurston seconded the motion, but before it was put Councilman Burns asked the clerk to read the published statement of Councilman Fred S. Stratton in reference to this question, which he said he had clipped from THE TRIBUNE. This was done, followed by the reply of Mr. Burns, which was as follows:

H. T. BURNS.

Mr. President: I read the letter of F. S. Stratton in our evening papers, and I am very much surprised at the attitude he takes, and also his censure upon this Council.

He states that $50,000 was voted on his motion for relief purposes. I understand that this money was coming from the Red Cross Fund and was due this city for the care and future care of the refugees of San Francisco, and no mention whatever was made in regard to what is under cover a prohibition movement for greater Oakland. The relief committee of San Francisco did not delegate him, neither did the prohibition party, to appear before us."

He further states that no money could be appropriated if this city cast upon San Francisco a number of lost-taxed persons. How is it that last Sunday only two persons in San Francisco were arrested for intoxication, and they did not come from Oakland?

CARE FOR MANY.

He further states in an open letter that when he spoke to us Monday night that he could not answer objections raised by Councilmen, there were no objections. Councilman Baccus inquired if the San Francisco committee recommended that he funds be appropriated unless the saloons be closed, Mr. Stratton's reply was "that San Francisco was not attempting to dominate." A very evasive answer, and it seemed for the purpose to whip the Council in line for an anti-saloon or prohibition laws for greater Oakland."

He further says that Oakland is the supplier for funds. Why not. Are we not taking care or did take care of mostly one-half of the San Francisco people? Does he expect that the business men, professional men, the middle class and the toilers shall go down in their pockets every week to pay all the expenses, when the United States Government has appropriated money for help and without alluding whatsoever to a few saloons in the city? What a ridiculous standpoint to assume by such a man."

RICH MAN'S CLUB.

He further states that he sat in the Legislature where coercion and money land believe they are superior to the middle class, the professional man, the mechanic, and the laborer, the majority of the people in Oakland are not prepared at this time or any other time to admit so."

Mr. Stratton in his letter states that he "personally" can hardly understand the attitude of the saloonkeepers. I don't pose as the advocate of saloon-keepers; nine-tenths of them comply with the law. What does he know about the saloons of this city or the manner in which they are conducted or carried on. Did he or any one of his neighbors was used to influence his vote. I have always noticed that a great many of these lawyers and legislators who rose as purists and Federal jobs or lifetime judgeships through the big corporations, and of course it stands them in hand to place a poor saloon-keeper or a workman upon the cross so that their faults can be glossed over."

At the meeting Monday night I asked what will become of the employees of saloons or the men employed as porters or drivers or workmen who are goods of the brewery or wholesale or retail houses are handled. Mr. Stratton says that the saloon men will reap an enormous rich harvest in two or five years. So that the dealer in spirituous goods or his employees need not work for a month or longer. Show me a man in the city of Oakland who has become enormously rich or worth money enough to take life easy in this city from the saloon business, and some have been in the business for thirty years."

He further states that the saloon-keepers should not complain for they will reap the greatest reward, but he does not state anything about the drug stores, would-be wholesale houses, and a few high-toned grocery establishments who all any old order for liquors sent to them and deliver the same to households in this city or adjoining towns, thereby creating the home drunkard, the worst type of mankind in a community."

He further states that the social clubs must be left untouched. Oh, no, the clubs must not be closed; the millionaire, the society man, or the man better than thou, he must have his whiskey or champagne at the fashionable clubs, and in defense he says that he was the attorney who personally appeared before the superior judge and argued, I suppose at a great and extreme length, the foolishness of these "clubs" being amenable to the city laws. Oh, no, you must not desecrate such holy places, but from a surmise of his statement you must deprive from a glass of beer the mechanic, the longshoreman, the bricklayer, the clerk, the laborer, the teamster tolling and sweating all day long. They must be deprived, but the "big guns" must be furnished their stimulants. A nice condition of affairs, must say: Our forefathers gave us a Constitution and Declaration of Independence declaring all men equal, and while some of the codfish aristocrats in Oakland go like Councilman Baccus and myself and call on numerous saloons and advise them not to sell to intoxicated persons and to comply with the restrictions of the City Council, an effort to sell to women or minors and not to sell any liquors by the flask or package? No, these "prohibitionists" sat in their "clubs" and drank their toddies, while from our investigations about the Council was enabled to close up places who violated the rules."

SALOONS CLOSE.

On Saturday night and Sunday following viz: April 22d and 23d persons were arrested for intoxication, and bear in mind that the city had at that time about 20,000 people, composed of some of the riff-raff, fast people, etc., from San Francisco, who had in mind the celebration of that week, and the strain upon nerves. Did not the liquor dealers the next Sunday, without compulsion from our investigations about the Council to defend the fair name of the city? They closed in the middle of the day, and taking in consideration the vast amount of people from San Francisco and outlying towns, was there noticeable disturbances of the peace? No. And think of it, in a great city, now having nearly a quarter of a million people, a man or a few men get intoxicated (and you have not heard of any assassinations, murder or any crime outside of something petty). And these "prohibitionists" call upon the City Council to establish New England blue laws to drive away the liberal minded people from our city to drive away wholesale merchants from us, to drive away the newly arrived capitalist who is seeking to invest his money here, knowing that the commerce of the Orient will land here, to drive away the mining men, who will establish headquarters in this city; to drive away from us the men seeking investments for business purposes. These "prohibitionists" seek to knock our city by such silly rot that all saloons must close because somebody saw a man drunk in this great city of 200,000 or 250,000 people. Thank God, the people of Oakland, and especially the taxpayers, when they recollect that we are receiving nearly $120,000 revenue yearly from saloon licenses to defray the expenses of this city, and when the citizens realize through the later calamity, there has been no thuggery, robbery or murders, or crimes other than petty, they will believe in this Council and uphold its action in looking forward to a greater Oakland, which will be a large business city by wise and liberal laws and not through "prohibition."

A man in the lobby, who failed to give his name, then addressed the chair to read a clipping from a San Francisco paper, showing that carousings were continuing there and declared that there is as much liquor sold in San Francisco, in proportion to the population, as there is here. He said San Francisco was attempting to interfere with Oakland's business and sacrificing their neighbors on the altar of the refugees."

Councilman Aitken then moved as a substitute to the resolution that the saloons be closed from 7 p. m. Saturday evenings until 5 a. m. Mondays, but his motion received no second."

Councilman Burns then moved that all saloon licenses in the city of Oakland be revoked. This was seconded by Councilman McAdam."

ELLIOT PROTESTS.

Councilman Elliot at once sprang to his feet and made a vigorous speech against this amendment. He said: "I cannot approve of this amendment, and for a very obvious reason. I am sure that Mr. Burns made his amendment in good faith, but if it were carried out it would create havoc. Mr. Burns' idea is that we should not collect licenses while saloons are closed, and therefore we should revoke all licenses."

"But if we should do so, when the saloons are reopened you would see the biggest political scramble we have ever known. I don't propose to have side-tracked this resolution, which is prepared in the interest of morality, for the benefit of a political scheme and to give the big plums to those who have the ability to secure them and render null and void any good that might be done by the passage of this resolution. I am afraid to leave this parcelling out of all the saloon licenses to eleven men in the City Council."

"There are good men in the saloon business who want order and desire to obey the law, but the men here tonight cannot control the situation. There are others who have made hay while the sun shone; liquor dealers who thought they had six votes of Councilmen sewed up and who refused to concur in the movement of their more orderly fellows to close on Sundays, etc., thinking they could defy public opinion."

"Let me say that if you want prohibition here, the way to get it is to arouse the people, apparently defy them and refuse to comply with their present request, which will result in the wiping out of the whole liquor business, a thing I do not care to see."

BURNS' ANSWER.

Councilman Burns, in answer to Elliot's protest against his amendment to revoke all saloon licenses, said: "I made this amendment in good faith and with no ulterior motive. I will never stand in to make a political issue of the saloon question in Oakland, but I do believe that the liquor dealers have some rights which we as Councilmen are bound to respect."

"I do not think it is right for us to take money in licenses from the saloon men for which we give them nothing in return. If we are going to compel them to close their places of business, let us revoke all their licenses and close them up for good, so that they may know just where they stand."

"I am perfectly willing to make Oakland a dry town, but I am not willing to allow them to pay their money into the city treasury and then to force them to close their doors and get no return for it."

PENDLETON REPLIES.

In answer to Councilman Burns, Councilman B. H. Pendleton said:

"I certainly do not agree with Mr. Burns in his suggestion to make Oakland a dry town, but I do certainly think that in view of the exigency which has arisen we should close up the saloons for a period of thirty days, or longer if necessary. It is true that in the last ten days I have seen such men as Mr. Hanrahan and others who have appeared before us repeatedly turn drunken men away from their doors, but, on the other hand, there are many saloonmen who have refused to obey the orders of the Council, and the men who wish to co-operate with us cannot control the situation."

Just before the vote on Councilman Burns' amendment was taken Councilman Aitken said: "I am only sorry that I was not able to appear here last Monday night. The papers said some unkind things about me, but for this I care very little. I noticed this evening, I think I was in THE TRIBUNE, that Dr. Dille had had an interview with me in regard to this matter."

"I am sure that Dr. Dille said no such thing, for it would have been a lie, truth if he had. I have not seen the gentleman in a long time, but I will explain for him, for I wish to understand it."

CAR STRIKES WAGON.

BERKELEY, May 25.—A car, containing about 5 o'clock a Durham milk wagon and a Grove street car, collided in South Berkeley, badly mauling the wagon and scattering the milk in various directions. Appetite Is Important

It Insures Perfect Digestion and Assimilation of Food—The Best Appetizer.

Dominant doctors agree that food cannot be properly digested and assimilated unless there is a sharp appetite for it. The mere eating of food is not, in itself, of benefit. The nutrition which the food contains must be well digested and assimilated if permanent good is to be gained from it. Therefore the importance of the appetite!

There is no other such safe, sure means for creating a healthy appetite as Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer taken before or with meals, and it is an almost absolute guarantee of perfect digestion.

Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer is more than an appetizer and active aid to digestion. It is a food of highest quality, always strengthening and nutritious, rich in the vitalizing, predigested food elements of Pabst eight-day malt and the tonic properties of choice selected hops.

Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer nourishes the whole body, invigorates the blood and refreshes the brain. Always pure and delicious, brewed in perfect cleanliness; perfect in age, purity and strength.

REFUGEES SUFFER IN THE SAN FRANCISCO CAMPS

Rain Pours Down on the Unhappy Sufferers Across the Bay.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—Rain has been falling here continuously for the past twenty hours, causing great discomfort and not a little misery to the thousands of refugees compelled by the recent disaster to live in the open. The storm started in that was apparently to be a passing shower, but as the afternoon wore on the precipitation set in as a cold, steady drizzle which continued throughout the night and bids to last throughout today.

UNUSUAL CONDITIONS.—The unusual conditions for this season have been a factor in the suffering of the refugees. The camps have been crowded for weeks ago. Because of the rain the refugees were not permitted to meet the emergency thousands of the refugees camped in the open spaces, and the rainy season was a factor who have taken the care to make their tents or shacks waterproof, suffered exceedingly from the exposure. The storm was heavier than any downpour since the great fire, and was the more disagreeable from the fall in temperature it brought with it. The keenest suffering was experienced by those refugees who have erected temporary shacks on vacant lots throughout the city. For the most part these abodes are little better than lean-to's, whose roofs are formed by sheets of tin or corrugated iron, while blankets or any other available material suffice for walls.

Early in the storm water leaked through these unstable roofs and soaked the ground floors of the miserable little temporary dwellings. From the cloth walls little rivulets ran, forming puddles for which no trenches had been provided as drains. In most of these places bedding was soaked and the occupants made little attempt to secure sleep.

IN THE PARKS.—In Golden Gate Park, Jefferson square and a few other of the locations where the military are in command, conditions were better. Many of the tents were provided with board floors. Around these tents the soldiers compelled regulation trenches to be dug which drained off all the surplus water.

ALFONSO MEETS HIS BRIDE

Royal Welcome Is Given the Princess in Spain.

IRUN, Spain, May 25.—King Alfonso greeted his bride, Princess Ena of Battemberg, as she entered Spain in the early hours of the morning, amidst an enthusiastic popular welcome and the homage of the Spanish ministry. The special train bearing the princess reached the frontier shortly after sunrise. The morning mists still hung over the river Bidasoa, separating France from Spain, as the train reached the frontier. The bride and the Spanish princess followed a welcoming salute of twenty-one guns from the heights of Pena de Ajá, commanding the frontier. At the same time regiments of carabiniers and Sillan guards were massed on the railroad station, and the bride and princess, saluted the bride's entrance into the kingdom while the bands played alternately the British and Spanish national hymns. In the meantime King Alfonso, in the uniform of a field marshal, and surrounded by the ministers of the crown, the court chamberlains and the military and civil authorities, awaited the princess at the railroad station. The princess, accompanied by a floral arch draped with red velvet and hung with the royal banners and flags, was welcomed by the premier. The meeting of the king and the princess, although a ceremonial state function, was none the less marked by the unaffected joy and cordiality of the young monarch. The king presented his military and civil ministers to the bride and princess, who graciously acknowledged the official salutations. At 3:25 p.m. the king continued his journey from the fort and the cheers of the people, the train left Irun for Madrid. The train was accompanied by the stations along the line, giving the young couple a continuous ovation.

GEORGE M. TAGGART IS GIVEN FREEDOM

George M. Taggart, arrested in this city on a charge of being a fugitive from justice from Philadelphia, was released from custody this morning by Judge Samuel, but was immediately rearrested on a charge of felony—embezzlement. Taggart was represented by Attorney A. L. Frick, who argued that the facts contained in the complaint telegraphed to the local Police Department, were not sufficient to warrant holding the prisoner. Police Judge Samuel agreed with the counsel for the defense, and released the prisoner, but an effort will be made to hold him on the second charge until the arrival of an officer from Philadelphia, armed with extradition papers.

BICYCLE THIEF IS ACCUSED OF FELONY

Antone Schmidt who was arrested on Wednesday afternoon at Sixteenth street and San Pablo avenue with a stolen bicycle in his possession, was booked this afternoon on two charges of grand larceny. Since his arrest the police have recovered five bicycles stolen by Schmidt. Patrolman Hunley found Schmidt with the stolen bicycle last Wednesday, and placed him under arrest. The police believe that a number of other thefts of bicycles will be traced to Schmidt in a short time.

ESCAPES, THEN IS CAUGHT

Prisoner Gains Freedom Only to Be Put in Jail Again.

Boldly threading his way between half a dozen court and police officers, who were awaiting the opening of Department 1 of the Police Court, William Boyd, charged with petty larceny, walked out of the prisoner's dock this morning, and escaping into the corridor of the City Hall made his way from the building, and but for the fact that Bailiff Moore discovered the escape before Boyd was out of sight, would have eluded the officers. Police Officer John Murray, who hurried from the courtroom at the first alarm, saw Boyd, who had attempted to disguise himself by binding a black silk handkerchief over one eye, dodge into a cigar store, and a moment later start down Washington street on a run. Murray gave chase and recaptured the prisoner near Thirteenth street.

Boyd was brought up from the City Prison with the other prisoners, and declaring that he was sick, staggered into the dock, and sank into a seat in a corner. A moment later, while Bailiff Moore was busy with some duty in the office of the Prosecuting Attorney, the prisoner slipped from the dock, and passing behind the clerk's desk, made his way through the chambers of Judge Smith into the corridor. He ran to the second floor of the City Hall, where he disguised himself as best he could by tying a black handkerchief over one eye, after which he made his way to the street. A moment after the prisoner left the dock his escape was discovered by Moore, who at once gave the alarm, and Murray hurried out in search of the prisoner. After a few minutes' search he discovered Boyd on Washington street, and after a short chase recaptured him.

Boyd at first declared that a mistake had been made, and that he had just come from the office of a doctor, but after being returned to the prisoner's dock and identified by Moore, he acknowledged that he was the right man. He said, "Well, I made a hard try for it, and if I had got a little more start you would never have got me."

When arraigned on a charge of petty larceny for stealing a blanket from the relief camp at Adams Point, Boyd pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to a term of six months in the city prison. He made a pitiful plea to Judge Smith, declaring that he had been a victim of the morphine habit for fifteen years, and promised to leave the city if released, but the Judge gave no heed to his pleading and gave him the limit of the law.

WANTS SOLDIERS TO STAY IN SAN FRANCISCO

J. F. Byrne Calls on the President and Makes the Request.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—J. F. Byrne of San Francisco was introduced to President Roosevelt by Senator Flint of California.

Mr. Byrne is here to urge the President and Secretary of War to permit the United States soldiers to continue to perform guard duty in San Francisco. He told the President that the presence of the soldiers, in the judgment of the people of the city, was an absolute necessity, and expressed the hope that they would not be removed for the present.

He told the President that, in the circumstances, it was practically impossible for the regular police to handle the situation and properly guard the city.

The President assured Mr. Byrne that if the people of San Francisco wanted the soldiers to remain on duty they would be permitted to continue there for at least a month or more.

REPLY TO THE CZAR'S SPEECH

Premier Goes to Get the Approval of Throne.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 25.—Premier Goreykin went to Peterhof today to secure the Emperor's final approval of the general statement of the government's policy which the cabinet has prepared in answer to the speech from the throne. As the statement will probably have to run the gauntlet of the court camarilla, the premier, it is believed, is not likely to be able to return here in time to deliver it this afternoon.

The plan advocated by the majority of the Constitutional Democrats is that if the Premier's speech is found unsatisfactory a vote of lack of confidence in the ministry will be passed, thus forcing upon the government the issue of supplanting the cabinet with one more in harmony with the party and the lower house. If this course is followed, unless the Emperor is prepared to yield immediately, it is sure to hasten a conflict.

Unique Dining Club for Women Shoppers in New York.
One of the unique dining clubs of New York is situated in the heart of the shopping district, where members weary with a tiresome round of the stores find it handy to drop in for luncheon and a nap. The organization flourishes under the name of "Glover club," and the membership fee entitles one to its hospitable comforts is only ten cents a month. Or if one wishes to enjoy its conveniences but once, she is admitted for five cents. The most important feature of the club is the dining room, where each member waits upon herself and keeps the tip for car fare. It is a large room screened from the public eye by a row of palms and attractively curtained windows. The tables are daintily set to linen, the silver is of the best. The cooking is of the home made order, and it is not only well seasoned, but hot and appetizing to the most fastidious. The prices are such that even the hungriest can get enough good substantial food for fifteen cents, and for twenty-five cents one can select a meal which in any of the uptown cafes would cost over a dollar. The tables are supplied with linen only. The diner takes a tray from a pile, walks the length of a long table where meats and vegetables are kept piping hot, and selects whatever she thinks looks good. A large pan contains slices of rare roast beef, another has cutlets saute, and still others hold mashed turnips, potatoes, hearts, baked beans, macaroni and cheese, carrots, and other vegetables, the variety being regulated by the season. Everything here is five cents a portion, which means a generous helping. Another table has a display of salads, fruits, desserts of every description and hot breads, including tea biscuits and corn bread. There is also a variety of refreshments costing from one to three cents a portion.

The Day of Opportunity

Today the cities around San Francisco bay are on trial before the whole world. Devastated as no city was ever devastated in history, San Francisco is the center of universal interest. It is the day of opportunity, not only for the city now in ruins, but for the cities contiguous to her. There is on the part of the city by the Golden Gate the opportunity to rise again with such rapidity and to such grandeur that in a few years the curiosity of the world will be turned to unqualified admiration.

To Oakland the opportunity is offered of showing magnanimity, a spirit of progress and of fraternalism—of proving the kind of stuff she is made of. And Oakland is proving it daily. It was fashionable not long ago to belittle Oakland, to speak of her in the language of that well known journalist, Ned Hamilton, as "The hatchery of the unexpected." To tens of thousands of people this expression, intended to be jocular, has become a happy reality. Oakland, rising to her opportunity, has indeed proved to be a big multitude that she is a hatchery of the unexpected. Such generosity, such open handedness, such ability to cope with a great and strenuous condition, such facilities for attending instantly to the wants of perhaps one hundred thousand people suddenly added to her own population—the world knows all about this and henceforth will expect even more from us.

Each citizen of Oakland, especially each merchant, is now invested with tremendous responsibility—nothing less than the foundation laying of a great metropolis. So far as we are concerned—and we are speaking now for the H. C. Canwell Company—no stone shall be left unturned, unhewn or unplaced that should be built into the foundation of a greater and better Oakland.

Tailored Suits of Quality

$20.00, $22.50, $25.00 and up.

There is a quality of style as well as a quality of fabric—both are found in the fashionably cut tailored suits which have come direct to us from the makers who set the style for Gotham. Nor is the variety stunted, for in this up-to-date display are the newest ideas in Eton and Jacket suits built from the most popular mixtures and plain colored cloths.

After all, the most important element in the organization of our Cloak and Suit Department is the fitting room. Here are experts who understand every detail of their exacting work. It is an inflexible rule of the Lace House that no garment shall go out until it is fitted in such a manner as to be entirely satisfactory, not only to the purchaser, but to us. We realize that we have far more at stake than the individual buyer of tailored garments, and while we are always anxious to please our customers, we are none the less cognizant of the fact that we have our own reputation to maintain.

Ladies' Silk Suits

$15.00, $18.00 and to $25.00.

These seasonable suits will be found in all colors now worn, are cut with rare elegance and becomingly trimmed with piping, gold braid and in some instances the effect is perfected with the aid of lace.

Corset Chat

This is the time for selecting corsets specially designed for coolness and comfort through the summer months. Corsets such as will insure a correct effect with the tailored suit as well as those corsets which, because of their permitting free ventilation, are fit companions to the shirt waist.

Among the always satisfactory makes of corsets are the "Kahn" and Thompson's "Glove Fitting," for both of which we are sole agents in this vicinity. We also carry several other popular makes of corsets, such as "R. & G.," "W. B.," "G. D.," Prices.....

$4.50, $5.00, $6.00 and to $16.50.

The making of separate Walking Skirts for wearing in California receives special attention, for here walking skirts and shirt waists are popular and can be worn the year around. Those we have just received were made specially to our order, are extremely stylish, of convenient length—most acceptable dressy skirts, and inexpensive.

Light and dark grays, plain and mixtures, black and blue Panamas and Mohairs are the prevailing fabrics because dust can be easily shaken from them and their colors will not fade.

Summer Neckwear

This is pre-eminently the kind of neckwear designed to wear with the ever popular shirt waist. Naturally the ground work of every piece of this host of pretty neckwear is white—lawns, chiffons, linen or duck, daintily relieved with lace, embroidery, fine tucking, plaiting, motifs—some with tabs and some tabless; either all white or with a touch of color sufficient to complete the desired effect.

The greatest reason why a cure or improvement in the climate of the Pacific coast is not being made is the fact that the climate of the great Southwest is not being studied. The only reason for this is that the climate of the Pacific coast is not being studied. The only reason for this is that the climate of the Pacific coast is not being studied.

TOWNS MADE WHILE YOU WAIT.

In the clearings the log house is a rarity, because the portable saw mill goes along with the timberman and lifts the logs into framing and boards for the dwelling while you wait. And the people are even in touch with the world. If they have no time to plant telephone poles, they nail the insulator to trees and run the wire through the woods. In the old days of the "Plains West" the town was born when the saloon, the smithshop and the corner store threw open their doors. In this north-west the community springs into existence while the lumberman is clearing the daily life of its inhabitants. Not only are the stores prepared for trade, but the schoolhouse is waiting for the children, the church invites to Sunday worship, and it is strange if the town newspaper does not come out the next day to its readers within a month or so after the birth of the future city.—D. H. Brock in Outlook.

Perfect Sleep

Women Who Are Free From Female Ills Sleep Soundly

Points to the Cause

How many women are troubled with insomnia! How few, alas, habitually sleep the night through and rise refreshed.

If you can't sleep it is because your nerves will not let your body rest. Women's nervous troubles come from female diseases. Their delicate organism is a network of intricate nerves. No woman can suffer from female irregularities without eventually ruining her nervous system. Get rid of female disease and the perfect sleep of childhood will return.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

cures all female troubles and restores nerve equilibrium and brings sound, restful, healthful, natural sleep. Thus does this wonderful remedy operate to bring health to suffering women.

Wakefulness and Nervousness Cured

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Last spring, I lost my appetite, had headaches, and bearing down pains with cramps so that I was in perfect misery. I became wakeful and extremely nervous.

I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and am pleased to state that I derived immediate benefit and soon enjoyed permanent relief.

Within eight weeks I was restored to normal health and felt refreshed and strengthened as though I had enjoyed a lengthy vacation.

Since that time I have recommended your Compound to a number of my lady friends suffering with female irregularities, and those who have used it report great benefit from its use.

965 College Ave., Appleton, Wis.

Vice-President Social Economic Club.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured more women of female diseases than any other medicine in the world. Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, advises sick women free. She will write you a personal letter if you tell her about your case.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cures Where Others Fail

GIVES OPINION ON CANAL TYPE

STATEMENT MADE BY CHIEF ENGINEER OF MANCHESTER SHIP WATERWAY.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—W. Henry Hunter, chief engineer of the Manchester ship canal and one of the foreign engineers charged by the President to investigate the Isthmian waterway project, has written a letter to Senator Kittredge saying that after reading the report presented by the minority of the Board of Consulting Engineers he is confirmed in the opinion he had formed in favor of the construction of a sea-level canal.

The letter was introduced in the Senate by Senator Morgan and ordered printed as a public document. Mr. Hunter says it is impossible to deny that the employment of locks of great size and particularly of lifts of height beyond all precedent in engineering practice will mean that the canal during the period of its existence be encumbered by obstructions which can neither be avoided nor removed, "and which will put every line of battle-ship and every large commercial steamer in peril on each occasion, upon which any such vessel will traverse the Isthmian waterway."

Mr. Hunter reviews at length accidents of daily occurrence at lock canals and the collisions with the Manchester ship canal resulting in the destruction and carrying away of gates, in support of his assertions.

CHILD LABOR IN LITERARY SWEATSHOPS.

I. Among the literary mills Where story books are made I saw a sad, anemic lad A-plotting of his trade. The novel he was working on Had such a heavy plot If it had spilled it might have killed That little tot.

II. "Oh, child!" I cried, "This is no place For one so very young— Take care, beware! this close, stale air May hurt each little lung. O lay aside your pen and ink— The infant shook his head: "Ah, would I might—but I must write To earn our daily bread."

III. "My father, ere he took to drink, Had literary skill. But since his fall we children all Were 'prenticed to the mill. My brother Ben (he's almost ten) Turns out the novelettes And sister Kate (she's only eight) Works over storyettes."

IV. "But, being young, than the rest, They work me like a dog A-tying knots in half-baked plots And building dialogue. And sometimes when the trade is rushed I labor overtime."

SPORTS

SAN FRANCISCO WINS AGAIN

TAKES ANOTHER BASEBALL GAME FROM FRESNO.

Another close game was witnessed on the Flora Park diamond yesterday afternoon and again the San Francisco Seals won out the Fresno Raisins by the score of 2 to 1.

The feature of the game was a triple play accomplished by Captain Parker Wilson of the Seals assisted by Second Baseman Mohler. It isn't very often that a triple play is seen on any diamond, and this one was pulled off so quickly that it was all over before the crowd realized what had happened. At the time Fresno looked very dangerous, having already tied the score and having the men on the bases. Happy Hogan was at the bat and the signal was given for the squeeze play—the man on the third starting for home as the pitcher was winding up. It being expected that the man at the bat would bunt the ball thus allowing the man from third to score. Hogan, however, failed to connect with the sphere and as this was his third strike he was caught out by Wilson, who immediately touched off McLaughlin before the latter could get back to third and he then threw to Mohler, a second who touched off Cartwright thus completing the triple play and pulling the Seals out of a bad hole. It was hard luck for Fresno as Viquez men had a good chance to win out with the bases full and no one out up to that time.

In the second half of this same inning San Francisco made what proved to be the winning run. Householder, whose error was responsible for the one run made by Fresno, redeemed himself by chucking out a three bagger and then the reliable Kid Mohler came through with a timely single scoring him Mohler, by the way, played phenomenal ball throughout the game some of his stops around the second cushion being nothing short of marvelous.

Sales is expected to pitch for San Francisco this afternoon at Flora Park, and either O'Brien or Walters will twist for Fresno. In case that Pitcher Sales does not arrive from his home in Marysville in time, Randolph he Alameda twirler on Oakland's staff will be loaned to San Francisco for the occasion. The game will be called at 4 o'clock.

WHIST CLUB IN SESSION

BERKELEY ORGANIZATION TO MEET DURING SUMMER MONTHS.

BERKELEY, May 25.—The members of the Jolly Twelve Whist Club have joined the kind of clubs who are to conduct their sessions through the summer months. Yesterday afternoon they met at the home of Mrs. Percy Bird, at 109 J Street.

The rooms were fragrant with French roses and ferns, and upon the walls were various original signs that proved to be a source of amusement to the guests. One read: "Anyone who wants to be a club member will find the place to go to in the club, and which for the future to be turned into a relief channel." Anyone who wants a high luck club is to be turned into a relief channel.

Several hours of interesting play were enjoyed by the members and at the conclusion the honors of victory rested with Mrs. Bird. Mrs. George T. Wheeler and Mrs. Schelgren.

The club's members present were Mrs. William Wood, Mrs. Fred Dixon, Mrs. Fred Dixon, Mrs. Charles Cornwall, Mrs. Louis Winkelman, Mrs. A. B. Emerson, Mrs. F. W. Kober, Mrs. Schelgren, Mrs. Charles Perkins, Mrs. Birdsell and Mrs. Captain Atthowe.

BRITT AND McGOVERN IN GOOD SHAPE

NEW YORK, May 25.—The World today says Britt and McGovern are adhering to the oldest rule of a prizefighter—the claim of being a sure winner. No two fighters ever stepped into a ring with more confidence than these two will in Madison Square Garden on Monday night. It will be Britt's first fight in the East. Their confidence has caused them to look further ahead than Monday night, with a view toward meeting Battling Nelson. Harry Pollock, manager of the Twentieth Century Athletic Club, last night wired Billy Nolan, Nelson's manager, who is in Los Angeles, asking upon what terms Nelson would box the winner of Monday night's battle. Pollock stipulated ten rounds, with no decision, on either June 18 or 25.

STATE SAYS IT IS MURDER

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—Admitting the shooting of an unknown man on the water-front on the night of April 20, Ernest Denicke, university graduate, prominent young clubman and son of Colonel Ernest A. Denicke of the Swiss-American Bank, appeared for arraignment before Police Judge Shortall this morning.

But young Denicke was not arraigned. The charge against him on the prison register is manslaughter, and the fact that he was released on $5000 bail immediately after arrest yesterday was not thoroughly satisfactory to District Attorney Langdon. That official is of the opinion that the charge should be a more serious one, hence no complaint was issued and there could be no arraignment.

It was announced in court by Assistant District Attorney Ward when the case was called this morning that it had been decided to hold a conference in the offices of District Attorney Langdon some time during the course of the afternoon. At that time all of the evidence against Denicke, now in the hands of the people, will be gone over, and it will then be determined just what action will be taken in the matter of preparing a formal accusation, either of manslaughter or a more serious offense. This being the case, he would be compelled to ask for a continuance. There was no opposition on the part of Denicke or his legal representatives, who are his brother, F. A. Denicke, and his law partner, E. B. Young, and the matter of arraignment was continued until tomorrow morning.

"Of course," said Assistant District Attorney Ward, after the case was continued this morning, "we have no knowledge as to the evidence in the hands of the police, but from the statements made by witnesses of the crime, and published, it would seem to me that the accusation should be murder or nothing at all. As yet the body of the dead man has not been found, and without that it would seem impossible to establish the corpus delicti. True, Lutgart, the Chicago murderer, was convicted and executed for the murder of his wife, whose body had been wholly destroyed in a vat of quick lime, but the law provided that in order to prove guilt in any felony accusation it is first necessary to establish the corpus delicti."

Neither Detectives Hamill nor Dow, who were sent to the Denicke residence on court when the case was called before Police Judge Shortall this morning. As they have gathered all the evidence in the case, it would seem that the matter of securing witnesses and preparing the complaint should be up to them. Just why they were not there is a matter for speculation.

The killing of the unknown, whose iron-weighted body was thrown into the bay by militiamen on the day following the shooting, was witnessed by Andrea Sbarboro, president of the Italian-American Bank, Italian-Swiss Colony and Mutual Loan Association. Mr. Sbarboro knows Denicke, and has had intimate business relations with the accused, and that the man was killed without cause.

INDICTMENT DOES WHITE CITY IS NOT HOLD DESTROYED

KANSAS CITY, May 25.—Judge Smith McPherson in the United States District Court here this morning sustained the demurrer to the indictment against George H. Crosby, former freight traffic manager of the Burlington Railway, charged with alleged conspiracy to grant rebates on freight shipments from the East to Missouri points. Judge McPherson sustained the claim that the government in the present trial had failed to present sufficient evidence to show a conspiracy and discharged the defendant. After the discharge of the indictment, a present was being on the demurrer to the indictment of George L. Thomas on trial with Crosby for alleged conspiracy.

BENEFITS CONSOLIDATION SET FORTH

What E. C. Sessions Has to Say on an Important Local Subject.

BY E. C. SESSIONS.

Editor TRIBUNE.—In consideration of the proposed consolidation of the several cities on the Oakland side of the bay, including adjacent territory, for the purpose of forming a city and county, there is one important matter which I have not as yet heard mention made of. In the legislative acts of incorporation 1861 and 1862, which are still operative, the southern boundary of the city of Oakland was made to be the boundary line between the marsh land on the Alameda side and the mainland on the Alameda side, being the northerly line of the Encinal de Alameda, thus including the entire estuary of San Antonio and the marsh lands abutting thereon, including the Alameda marsh lands.

Taxes were for many years assessed and collected on same as so assessed, including those of the city of Oakland.

Subsequently by legislative action the division line between Alameda and Oakland was made the center of the estuary of San Antonio as it then existed. This center line would have at any time been very indefinite and difficult of location.

Since that time the United States has expended nearly three millions of dollars in construction of Oakland harbor, fixing lines for bulkhead and levee, and establishing a main channel or fairway, in the location of which in some instances necessarily no attention could be given to the irregular meander of the old natural channels.

In other instances in order to facilitate the work in accordance with the views of the government engineers, concessions of adjacent lands were made by the owners thereof. It will be remembered by many that there was a peninsula of forty or fifty acres in extent in what is now the Brooklyn Basin, conveyed to the United States by the O. W. F. Co., and which was excavated by dredging.

A concession of about seven acres of land was also made by the undersigned. There were several other smaller parcels of mainland conceded to the government.

The United States Government has expended a large sum of money (about three millions) upon the main channels, which are situated in the center of the fairway.

OIL INQUIRY IS AGAIN RESUMED

CLEVELAND, O., May 25.—Frank B. Fretter, secretary of the National Refining Company of Cleveland, and president of the National Pipe Line Company of Ohio, resumed the stand today in the Standard Oil investigation. Mr. Fretter testified that for over three years the company had trouble in making shipments from Memphis, Tenn., to points in Arkansas. There were many delays, he said, customers being compelled to wait thirty, sixty and ninety days. He said he found that the agents of the roads were also agents of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company of Missouri, a Standard adjunct.

These agents, he said, deliberately sidetracked shipments in order to destroy his trade.

CAUGHT THUMB IN PRESS.

Isaac Lipman, nineteen years of age and a bookbinder by occupation, living at 1483 West street, caught his thumb in a press this morning, which crushed the member badly. He was treated at the Receiving Hospital by Dr. Irwin and Steward Harry Borchert.

SUGAR MARKET.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Sugar: Raw steady; fair refining $2.50-22; centrifugal 96 test $2.13-22; 98-100 molasses sugar $2.31-32; 91-93 refined steady; crushed $2.00; powdered $4.40; granulated 50c. Coffee steady; No. 1 Rio $7.7-8.

Under these conditions and circumstances it would seem to me to be impossible to locate with any degree of accuracy at the present time the boundary line between the cities of Oakland and Alameda in the harbor as legally established, and consequently the determination of jurisdictional lines.

Some portion of the work now being done under present contract in deepening or widening of channels is in Oakland city and other portions are in Alameda. If the center line of the main channel as established by the United States was to be made the boundary between the two cities, vessels entering the harbor would sometimes be in Oakland and sometimes in Alameda.

The photographs taken by the Chamber of Commerce for use at Washington in obtaining the last appropriation, in the portion thereof showing the harbor east of Harrison street indicate plainly some vessels at anchor near the mouth of Brooklyn basin, which by fluctuation of tide were alternately in one city, then in the other.

It would also seem to be a source of much trouble and conflict of authority to have a portion of Oakland harbor under municipal authority of Oakland and another in Alameda.

If it should hereafter be deemed to be wise for either of the cities to make any improvement in the channel it would be impossible because one city could not expend money within the limits of another city.

In early days the commuters who sought homes in Oakland because it was a quiet place in which to sleep, looked with disfavor upon manufacturing and business enterprises, as do many of the Alameda people today, but the commercial bodies of Oakland and its business men of late years are awake to the importance of development of the natural advantages of the city for commercial purposes, and deem the development of the harbor as one of the most important elements in furtherance of same.

A divided jurisdiction over the channels of the harbor will surely result in conflict of authority which would be avoided by a city and county government under one set of councilmen or Trustees.

A cool spell following the rain will be very beneficial, particularly to grain, as it will prevent dust and give it a chance to grow so soon as the sun will be benefited greatly by the moisture.

PEACE AT THE MINE.

SMITHFIELD, O., May 25.—A night of constant rumors and wild alarm at the Plum Run mine was followed by a day of apparent peace. Work was resumed this morning without mishap. Non-union men entered the pits early before the strikers were astir. The force of guards will be increased, as it is announced that the full working force of the mine will be recruited as rapidly as possible among non-union men.

Famous Actress Gets Excited and Demands New Locomotive.

MANHATO, Kas., May 25.—One of the trucks of the special train carrying Sara Bernhardt and her company, broke two miles from here this afternoon, delaying the train several hours. No serious damage was done. A special carrying a hundred members of the Omaha Commercial Club on an excursion through the State, was following but was flagged in time to prevent a collision. Bernhardt was wild with excitement and ran back and forth between her car and the locomotive. She demanded a new locomotive, even after the derailed engine was replaced on the tracks. She claimed the locomotive was derailed and refused to permit her to go ahead. The railroad was blocked several hours. The tender of the locomotive of her train ran along the ties half a mile, the locomotive finally leaving the rails, but remaining upright.

GET IN PROOFS OF INSURANCE LOSS

Banker Tobin Gives Some Good Advice to Those Who Lost by Fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—"The important matter now in connection with the insurance situation is for the people to get in their proofs of loss," said Joseph Sadoc Tobin at the Hibernia Bank today.

"We are furnishing mortgagors with proofs as fast as they come for them, notwithstanding that we are very busy attending to the wants of depositors. Too much stress cannot be laid on this matter. There are only some twenty odd days in which this can be done. The proofs must be filed within the sixty days. Of course, this time may be extended, but policy holders should not rely upon that possibility. They should not, even if an extension were certain to be allowed, as technicalities might then arise that would jeopardize the interests of the assured. For instance, suppose that the agents of companies should agree to an extension and the policyholder, lulled into security, should fail to get in his proofs within the sixty-day limit. Then suppose that the home company should repudiate the act, saying that the agent had no authority to extend the time, and contend that the failure of the assured to perform his part of the contract relieved them of liability. Then there would arise litigation, and loss might ensue. The banks are furnishing proofs of loss. We will furnish them to applicants whether they have mortgages in our bank or not."

Mr. Tobin was asked for his opinion of the situation, and said: "I am told that the big, strong companies are going to pay without delay, and it is the opinion of many that if this is done the smaller and weaker companies must fail. If there is danger of that, I think some arrangement should be reached by which policyholders would accept partial payment of the sums due. This would relieve the companies in distress from the necessity of raising the whole amount of their losses at once. How could this be done? Well, I think the propertyowners might move in the matter so as to have corrected action. Honor the subject has been discussed, and I think it a good idea."

Insurance Commissioner Myron E. Wolf said that quite a number of the larger companies were paying off claims today. There were all small losses, though, he said. Mr. Wolf has been attending the meeting of the legislative committee, and was asked if he had any legislation to suggest for action at the special session about to be called. He said he had two propositions. One was in favor of the companies. Under the law as it now exists, he said, foreign corporations were required to file with him their annual statements by May 1. Owing to the interruption which this great loss of property has caused in the regular order of business, he thought the time limit should be extended, and he would ask that this be provided for. The other matter that he proposes to bring up is in relation to the provision requiring insurance companies to submit to him for examination their papers. The law already provides in a general way that this be done, but Mr. Wolf wants a specific act requiring the companies to furnish him with full information of every policy in their possession or shown on their books.

FOR WOMEN ONLY.

There are good and substantial reasons why intelligent people and physicians as well, employ Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of diseases and weakness peculiar to women.

In the first place, it is not a cure-all, verily only a singular case of purpose, being a specific for one class of diseases only—those peculiar weaknesses and maladies incident to women. Besides, it is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for the cure of such maladies, all the ingredients of which have the endorsement of leading medical practitioners and writers, as being the very best known remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is advised. All this will be learned to the reader's full satisfaction by perusing a booklet of extracts compiled by Doctor Pierce from standard authorities of the several schools of practice, and which will be sent free to any address on request, for same, mailed to Dr. J. C. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

In the second place, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine for women's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, all the ingredients of which are printed upon the outside wrapper in plain English, so that all who take it may know exactly what they are getting.

A further reason for the unprecedented popularity of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is to be found in the fact that it contains not a drop of alcohol—pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, being used instead, both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles extracted from such roots of native medicinal forest plants as are employed in its make-up. The printed formula will also bear witness that it contains no narcotics or other harmful or habit-forming drugs, being entirely made up of glyceric extracts of native, American plants of marvelous efficacy in the cure of the diseases peculiar to women.

Now, in this connection, it is well to bear in mind, that, ere this it may seem, yet it is a fact that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine for the cure of women's peculiar weaknesses and ailments that does not contain alcohol and that too in large quantities. This fact can be easily proven, and yet it is a fact well known to all the best physicians that alcohol, even in small quantities, when long continued is very harmful, and especially so to weak, invalid, nervous women. While the effect of spirituous wines and liquors is to excite the system, and to make it at first to exhilarate, brace-up and unduly support the system for a brief time, yet a reaction comes sooner or later, and the patient is worse off than before. Besides, a craving for alcoholic stimulants has gradually fastened itself upon the poor, deluded, suffering woman—a craving generally more to be dreaded than the original ailment.

Furthermore, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has a record of cures extending over a period exceeding one-third of a century, and embracing many genuine cases of full and complete recovery than any other medicine in its line can boast of. Thousands have been saved from the operating table and the surgeon's knife by the use of this marvelous, efficacious specific for women's ailments. Other thousands have escaped the disagreeable ordeal of the doctors' questionnaires, and otherwise examinations by taking this remedy and being cured in the privacy of their homes. It has cured thousands of bad, obstinate cases in which doctors had failed and in which cures were thought to be impossible.

What it has done for others it will no doubt, do for you, if similarly afflicted, and you give it a good, fair and faithful trial.

In favor of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription being regarded as the best of the most potent medicines of our time, is the frank, confident, open, honest statement of its full composition, giving every ingredient in plain English, without fear of successful criticism and with confidence that the good sense of afflicted women will lead them to appreciate this honorable manner of confiding to them what they are taking into their stomachs when taking use of this medicine.

If suffer from backache, headache, periodical headaches and other recurring pains at more or less regular intervals, disagreeable drains as it from pelvic catarrh, sickening sensations, dizziness, as times, morning sickness, irregularities, bearing-down or dragging-down sensations in the lower abdomen or any of the many kinds of distressful and painful symptoms which accompany female weaknesses, then you cannot find any remedy quite so perfectly adapted for the cure of your malady as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is not a secret nostrum, it is not a patent medicine, to the use of which most intelligent people object because of the close secrecy with which the formula of such medicines are held, and which, no doubt are many times harmful in the long run, especially as all those for whom contain large quantities of alcohol and of times rather objectionable ingredients. The only wise and safe course is to use only medicines of known composition, and which, like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, contain no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs.

The exact proportion of the several ingredients used in Dr. Pierce's medicines, as well as the working formula and peculiar processes, apparatus and appliances employed in their manufacture, are withheld from publicity that Dr. Pierce's proprietors might not be infringed and trespassed upon by unscrupulous imitators and those who may be piratically inclined.

SCHOOL MATTERS ARE DISCUSSED

SPECIAL MEETING IS HELD IN BERKELEY LAST NIGHT.

BERKELEY, May 25.—How to equip the schoolhouses in Berkeley was the subject of discussion at a special meeting held by the Chamber of Commerce last night in the First National Bank building. A citizens' committee was deemed necessary in the matter of considering how to enlist the attention and interest of the community in school matters. This was the vital question that led to the calling of the meeting last evening. Duncan McDuffie, president pro-tem, presided at the meeting.

Mr. Wyckoff outlined a plan whereby the citizens of Berkeley may act in conjunction with the school board and raise enough funds to meet the needs of the school districts. A committee composed not exclusively of members of the Chamber of Commerce, was appointed to solicit the aid of the community in the way of obtaining moral backing and support and to formulate plans for the reconstruction of new school buildings.

Mr. McGraw suggested that a committee of thirty be appointed to consider the amount of money the town should be called upon to give toward school funds. His motion was carried. This was thought to be somewhat out of the jurisdiction of the school board, even though the meeting deemed it necessary to work with municipal authorities. The meeting last night showed plainly that the men comprising the Chamber of Commerce had the welfare of the city much at heart, and active work in the way of repairing school buildings will soon begin.

FINANCIAL NEEDS.

Heretofore the Board of Education have been reluctant to ask for the necessary amount of money with which to properly provide for the needs of the schools, and it was suggested by Mr. McGraw to find out exactly what the financial needs of the schools are so that the committee of thirty may work in conjunction with the Board of Education. This committee that is appointed should give the school trustees every encouragement and by gaining the support of the town people should urge them to be strong in their proposed methods of procuring the necessary amount of money needed, either by a bond issue or a direct tax.

The question as to just what constituted the school district of Berkeley was decisively answered by Secretary Wyckoff, who claimed that the territory covered by the school district extended from the northern line of the town to the Contra Costa line. The members of the committee selected to investigate matters pertaining to the school finances, who lived within the vicinity of the school section include the following well known Berkeleyans:

G. B. Ochiltree, Benjamin I. Wheeler, Dr. J. K. McLean, Rev. E. L. Parsons, H. H. White, Eugene McDuffie, P. W. Foss, W. H. Marston, V. J. Robertson, E. H. Webb, F. L. Naylor, Louis Titus, F. E. Armstrong, H. D. Irvin, J. H. Senger, Walter Gompertz, C. S. Merrill, A. E. Longe, E. H. Newton, Warring Wilkinson, Elmer Cole, E. J. Sittig, E. B. Norton, H. H. Camper, P. W. Rochester, P. F. Bradhoff, F. B. Dresslar, D. W. McLaughlin, G. P. Baxter, F. M. Wilson, Anson S. Blake, Prof. Carl C. Flehn, H. A. Sully, S. N. Wyckoff, G. H. McGraw, Mr. McClure.

PRIVATE SESSION.

All business having been completed the Chamber of Commerce adjourned.

No tired Brains Grape-Nuts

when food is used.

FACT!!!

Bread dyspepsia is common. It affects the bowels because white bread is nearly all starch, and starch is digested in the intestines, not in the stomach proper.

Up under the shell of the wheat berry Nature has provided a curious deposit which is turned into diastase when it is subjected to the saliva and to the pancreatic juices in the human intestines.

This diastase is absolutely necessary to digest starch and turn it into grape-sugar, which is the next form, but that part of the wheat berry making the flour, and the modern miller cannot readily sell uncooked flour, so Nature's valuable digester is thrown out and the human system must handle the starch as best it can, without the help that Nature intended.

Small wonder that appendicitis, peritonitis, constipation and all sorts of trouble exist when we go so contrary to Nature's law. The food experts that perfected Grape-Nuts Food, knowing these facts, made use in their experiments of the entire wheat and barley, including all the germ and subjected them to moisture and long continued warmth, which allows time and the proper conditions for developing the diastase, outside of the human body.

In this way the starchy part is transformed into grape-sugar in a perfectly natural manner without the use of chemicals or any outside ingredients. The little sparkling crystals of grape-sugar can be seen on the pieces of Grape-Nuts. This food, therefore, is naturally pre-digested and its use in place of bread will quickly correct the troubles that have been brought about by the too free use of starch in the food, and that is very common in the human race today.

The effect of eating Grape-Nuts ten days or two weeks and the discontinuance of ordinary white bread, was marked. The user will gain rapidly in strength and physical and mental health.

"There's a reason."

and the committee of thirty went into consultation and held a private session, which lasted for three quarters of an hour. The first business of the executive session was to elect a chairman and secretary. G. B. Ochiltree was duly elected chairman, while E. N. Wyckoff was appointed secretary.

It was unanimously agreed upon that the school board take all responsibility in the matter of the proposed bond election to have the judicial backing of the town trustees, who will be asked to work in connection with the school board.

The committee were undecided as to whether their action was compatible with the jurisdiction of the school board, and decided to ask the official opinion of the District Attorney on the matter. It was reported in relation to the next regular meeting, C. S. Merrill, was appointed a committee of one to solicit the opinion of the District Attorney.

A sub-committee consisting of Professor Senger, Messrs. Bradhoff and Sully, are to ascertain the exact needs of the school, and compare notes with the Board of Education at the regular meeting next Tuesday evening, in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, Superintendent Waterman of the Berkeley public schools and other members of the board of school trustees may attend the Citizens' Committee meeting a week from tonight, when school matters will be discussed.

There were present at last night's meeting Messrs. McDuffie, Wyckoff, Ochiltree, McClure, Sully, Senger, Allen, McGraw, Merrill, Bradhoff and Parsons.

SALE OF PICTURES FOR RELIEF FUND

NEW YORK, May 25.—The sale of pictures and curios contributed mostly by art dealers for the San Francisco relief fund realized $208 at the Fifth Avenue Art Galleries last night.

NURSES GRADUATE.

ALAMEDA, May 25.—The graduation of the six young ladies who graduated from the Alameda Sanatorium Wednesday night proved to be a merry occasion.

The rooms had been tastefully decorated in the Sanatorium colors, red and green. The ladies had been given a collation and refreshments and presented an inviting appearance.

Dr. Maurice Brown was the toastmaster at the festive board. He called on the different doctors, who responded to timely applause. Miss Sybil Bartley was the valedictorian and Miss Annie Mitchell read a poem in which the follies of all were set out in original verse.

Miss Kate Creedon spoke in a congratulatory strain and praised the members who had finished the course of study. The undergraduates sang a number of selections which ended with a "Jolly Good Fellow."

Among those who responded to toasts were Doctors Reynolds, Lum, Keyes, Stephens, Miller, Clark, Van Orden, Fletcher, Stafford, Smith, Crosby, H. Smith Brown and Leander Van Orden.

The graduates are Miss Sibyl V. Bartley of San Jose; Miss Annie M. Mitchell of Oakland; Miss Helen J. Moxey of Oakland; Miss Agnes A. Algie of Pacific Grove; Miss Linda Z. Meyers of San Francisco, and Miss Florence A. Hilliard of Orden.

REFUSES TO PAY.

ALAMEDA, May 25.—After satisfying an enormous appetite with the best in the land at Pete Dela Santa's cafe, E. Vanderveit refused to pay for his repast and when urged, he filled the air with epithets. He was arrested and charged with disturbing the peace. Yesterday he was released on $5 bail.

"I think papa and mamma likes the baby better than they do me," said four-year-old Flossie to the visitor, "cause he let 'em do just as they please."

COMPANY I BOYS RETURN TO LIVERMORE HOMES

LIVERMORE, May 25.—Company I is at home again, after several weeks' patrol work in Jefferson Square and vicinity. We are glad to have them home again, and are proud of the able and manly way in which they did their duty while in the city. Their conduct while there has won the sympathy for the afflicted, their uniform courtesy and thoughtful kindness toward the unfortunate, and their energy and ability in caring for the homeless thousands under their care, won for them the friendship and grateful remembrance of all in the refugee camp in the square. They reached home last Friday evening on the 8 o'clock train, and were met at the depot by a large crowd which had assembled to welcome them home. The boys expect to receive as compensation for their work in San Francisco $1 per day for thirty-one days, which will amount to something over $300 for the whole company.

On Tuesday evening they were tendered a reception and banquet, followed by a dance in the Sweeney Opera House. It was the regular night for April, and the boys gave a brief snappy drill for the benefit of the assembled crowd. A little later the members of the company and the "Old Guard" fell in, and marched to the banquet room, where they were feasted to repletion. Speeches were made during the evening by William McDonald, Rev. James B. Stone, Rev. Harry Baker and W. J. Connelley. Some special music was also furnished by a Mr. Hurley, who is a San Franciscan. After the banquet the boys resumed and continued until midnight.

DECORATION DAY.
Decoration Day will be observed on May 30, and a program of exercises suitable to the occasion will be held in the Masonic cemetery under the direction of the local members of the G. A. R. Captain Crosby is president of the day, and has arranged a program, of which the following are the most important features: Address by William McDonald; music by the school children, and "Taps" and eulogies by Company I of the N. G. C.
RESIGNS POSITION.
Peter Draghi, who has been assistant to Agent Bailey at the Southern Pacific depot, has given up his position there to go to Oakland, where he hopes to pass the examination to enter the fire department of that city.
LIVERMORE RELIEF.
The Livermore relief committee is continuing its weekly shipments of supplies to the sufferers from the San Francisco disaster. The last several shipments have been made to San Leandro, where several hundred refugees are being cared for. The local committee has between $1600 and $1700 remaining to be expended in relief work.
QUIET WEDDING.
The wedding of Carl Hicks and Katherine Lemick, both of whom have been in the employ of Mrs. George Truog for some time, took place in Oakland Thursday. The groom purchased the old Cunningham ranch of L. Gilchrist, and fell upon his departure to British Columbia, and will make his home there.
GEORGE JACKSON ILL.
George Jackson, a pupil of the eighth grade at the Grammar school, has been quite ill with diphtheria at his home on Second street. Dr. Taylor reports the young man as being rapidly upon the mend, although the house will be under quarantine for some time yet.
MRS. GAUCH DEAD.
Mrs. Maggie Gauch, a former resident of Livermore, and sister of Fred Schneider, an employe of Peter McKim, died on Tuesday in the German Hospital in the city from pneumonia. The funeral will be held on Friday in San Francisco.
WILL RIDE OUTLAWS.
Pegleg Gravel, the king of the bronco busters, is in town again and will give an exhibition next Sunday. "Pegleg" is called on account of having a wooden leg, and is a master in the art of subduing the gay and festive bronco. During his last visit here about a year ago he gave a number of interesting exhibitions, during which he rode some of the most notorious outlaws and "gun nut" bad horses that the neighboring ranges and yearly importations from the alkali plains could produce. Any person having a horse that is an outlaw and long is invited to bring him to Livermore Sunday, where it is guaranteed that he will be ridden to a finish free of charge.
BALL GAME.
A ball game is scheduled for Sunday afternoon between the local team and the Messmer-Smiths of Oakland. The Livermore team beat this same aggregation in a well and closely played game last season.
DIED AT INFIRMARY.
"Coyote" Smith, a former rancher in the Livermore mountains above Tesla, died at the County Infirmary on Sunday last, aged 63 years. The old man was well known to all.

men, sheep men and quail hunters in this vicinity, as he lived for many years in the heart of their territory.
WORKMEN SCARCE.
Haying has begun in various parts of the valley and it is reported that in many cases the yield will not be what was expected earlier in the season. The rank growth of clover in many parts of the valley seems to be the worst thing there is to contend with. Workmen are scarce and will be badly needed soon. In many instances $2 and $2.50 per day and found is being paid for hands in the field. Here is an opportunity for some of the city refugees who are out of employment to renew their earlier acquaintance with the good old farm.
NEWS NOTES.

Words of Praise From Prominent Doctor

Mrs. Dr. M. T. Pierce, of Weburn, Mass., whose unbiased opinion is based on the results of years of experience as a medical practitioner, unhesitatingly commends and prescribes Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for all cases requiring a pure tonic stimulant and health builder.

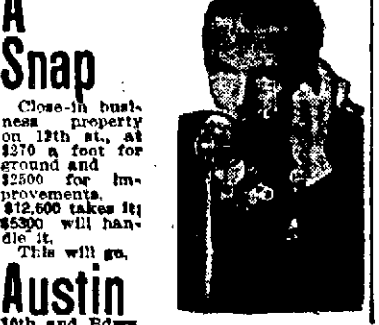

Dr. Pierce recently celebrated her 86th birthday, in the best of health, surrounded by a host of friends and relatives.

In referring to Duffy's the dear old doctor writes:

"I have used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey in my practice for many years and find it most beneficial in sickness, and especially where the system has been run down and weakened by the infirmities of age. At the present time I am giving it to a number of old people, and it is the very best invigorator, health-giver and tonic-stimulant I can find for them. Please send me six more bottles."—Mrs. Dr. M. T. Pierce, 23 Montvale Ave., Weburn, Mass., November 20, 1905.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is the most perfect invigorator for the aged, and the safeguard of the young. More than 4,000 old people state that their rugged health and sturdy vigor are due to its regular and judicious use. It is prescribed by leading physicians, recommended by ministers of the Gospel and endorsed by temperance workers the country over as the best medicine and purest tonic for the aged. It cures consumption, pneumonia, grip, bronchitis, coughs, colds, sore throat, malaria, low fevers, dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation and every form of lung, bowel and stomach trouble. It aids digestion, induces sound and wholesome sleep, enriches poor and impoverished blood, quickens the heart's action, tones up and improves the circulation and brings the body back to normal health and strength, by going to the source of the disease, killing the poisonous germ and driving them from the body. It is the only whiskey recognized as a medicine, and contains no fuel oil. This is a guarantee.
CAUTION—When you ask your druggist or grocer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It's the only one with a picture of a man on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Doctor's advice and medical booklet from Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.
